PERSONAL HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

By letter dated April 30, 1958 the New York Office advised that on April 17, 1958 SA [redacted] caused a check to be made of the Bureau of Vital Statistics for birth data on JOSEPHINE NASO. The records were negative.

On June 5, 1958 San Francisco T-3, whose reliability is unknown, advised SA [redacted] that he had known the LANZA family for approximately 30 years. He was unable to state exactly when or how he met members of the family, but thought he probably met them at a social gathering of Italians of Sicilian extraction. It is noted that T-3 is a Sicilian. He stated that prior to the time the LANZAs came to the San Francisco area, which he estimated was about 1921, he knew nothing of their activities. He stated that ever since he has known them in this area they have resided in either San Mateo County or on Francisco Street, San Francisco.

b6
b7c

In regard to FRANK LANZA, father of Subject, he stated that he (FRANK LANZA) had also been in business around San Francisco. He stated that FRANK LANZA was in the wine business, the olive oil business and at one time was one of the owners of the Exposition Fish Grotto on Fishermen's Wharf. He related that FRANK LANZA sold his interest in the Exposition Fish Grotto after a very short time in the venture.

He related that FRANK LANZA had always used the name "LANZA Company" or something similar with the LANZA name in the title of his business. He related that FRANK LANZA had always been considered a very well to do man by the Sicilians in this area. He stated that FRANK LANZA was a gambler in the stock market meaning that he often took a "flyer" on stock market tips involving large sums of money. He stated that FRANK LANZA lost a great deal of money in the stock market crash of 1929 and that he would have been very wealthy when he died had it not been for this fact. He stated that even though FRANK LANZA lost a great deal of money in 1929 he apparently left his children a good deal of money since they have always lived comfortably and well. It was his opinion that FRANK LANZA left a good deal of property and stocks to his children when he died. He was unable to recall when FRANK LANZA or his wife died, but believed that FRANK LANZA died before his wife. He stated that they both died in San Francisco.

In regard to the children of FRANK LANZA, T-3 stated that ANTHONY LANZA is in the insurance business in San Francisco and that he apparently does very well in the insurance business as he appears to have many customers among the Italians in San Francisco. He described ANTHONY LANZA as being more quiet, retired and reserved than JAMES LANZA, who is more of a "glad hander".

He advised that JAMES LANZA has been in the wine and olive oil business most of his life. He stated insofar as he knows JAMES is still in the olive oil business and shares the office on Washington Street with ANTHONY LANZA. He stated that JAMES LANZA is well liked by most Sicilians in the area and that the LANZAs are looked up to since they are fairly well to do financially and this condition impresses most Italians.

T-3 advised that JAMES and ANTHONY LANZA have always been in business with either their father or on their own as "LANZA Bros."

In regard to the other members of the FRANK LANZA family, T-3 related that ROSE LANZA, sister of Subject, works at the White House department store in San Francisco. He was unable to recall anything else pertaining to her. T-3 advised that GRACE LANZA, sister of Subject, is [redacted] who operates a barber shop on Chestnut Street in the Marina District of San Francisco. He advised that he had met the [redacted] once or twice but was not acquainted otherwise with them.

b6

T-3 advised that he is acquainted with many members of the ALIOTO family in San Francisco, but he would be unable to furnish any specific relations between members of this family as the family has many members. He stated that one who appears to be the leader of the ALIOTO family is JOSEPH ALIOTO, an attorney. He related that he attributed his leadership to the simple fact that he was a successful and well to do attorney. He stated that he knows of no derogatory information regarding ALIOTO.

In regard to PHILIP MAITA (who is a known close associate of Subject), T-3 advised that he has known PHILIP MAITA for the past 35 years. He advised that MAITA has lived for many years at 98 Curtis Street, and that he formerly operated a grocery store in the vicinity of Geneva Avenue and Mission Street in San Francisco. At the present time MAITA is operating a liquor store on Stockton, just off Broadway. He advised that MAITA has a very good business at this liquor store and should be making a good living from it. He related that MAITA "works like a dog" at this store. He stated that often MAITA opens his store at 9:00 a.m. and works through until 2:00 a.m. the following morning. Frequently [redacted] stayed at the store with MAITA and cooked meals in the room at the rear of the store. MAITA is assisted at the store by [redacted]

b6

T-3 advised that MAITA took over the liquor store from [redacted], who had inherited it from their father. He related that the [redacted] allowed the business to run down and that MAITA bought them out and put the business back on its feet by working very hard.

T-3 advised that MAITA [redacted] is married and works as a produce clerk for the Shop Rite Market in San Mateo, which is [redacted] He further advised that [redacted] is the husband of [redacted]

b6
b7C

It is noted that Subject has been observed on several occasions by Agents of the San Francisco Office, purchasing groceries at the Shop Rite Market in San Mateo.

T-3 described the MAITA family as being very hard working people who certainly are not well to do and who have never lived very highly. T-3 advised that MAITA might have been connected in some manner with bootlegging during prohibition days, but otherwise he knew of no other illegal activities on the part of PHIL MAITA. He related that he did not believe PHIL MAITA to be in any criminal activities since he has always worked very hard and at the present time did not have time to take part in such activities. He further pointed out that MAITA's standard of living did not indicate that he would have any big income from illegal sources.

On May 22, 1958 San Francisco T-5, whose reliability is unknown, advised SA [redacted] that he had known Subject for many years. It is noted that T-5 is a Sicilian and has many relatives in the San Francisco area. T-5 stated that JAMES LANZA and ANTHONY LANZA had always had money and that their father, who was also known by T-5, was considered very wealthy. T-5 either could not or would not furnish the source of the wealth of the LANZA family. He merely remarked that they had always had money. He stated that in his opinion Subject was too smart to engage in any illegal activities.

On May 29, 1958 SAs [redacted] and CURTIS P. IRWIN interviewed HENRY IRVING. IRVING, an accountant, whose offices are at 1428 Irving Street, San Francisco, is the owner of Record of Oro Olive Oil Company, Oroville, California. MIKE ABATE is the manager of the Oro Olive Oil Company Plant at Oroville. It is noted that the file at Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), 630 Sansome Street on MICHELE ABATE reflected that shortly after Subject's arrest on March 12, 1954 by INS for deportation among the letters attesting to ABATE's good character received by INS was a letter from HENRY IRVING. IRVING claimed to have known ABATE since 1945. He stated that ABATE had been managing his plant which was the Oro Olive Oil Company at Oroville for him since February 28, 1953.

It is noted that MIKE ABATE is a close personal friend of Subject. The interview of IRVING was primarily regarding ABATE. IRVING had no information that ABATE was engaged in any illegal activity.

IRVING advised that his first wife, who is now deceased, was a Sicilian. He advised that his first wife's maiden name was ANNIE NOVELLO, whose father taught school in Sicily prior to coming to the United States. IRVING further related that his wife was ashamed of the fact that she was a Sicilian and very few people knew that she was Sicilian. He claimed that he himself could not speak Italian as Italian was never spoken around their house.

IRVING advised that he started his accounting business in the 1920's and until recently when his son joined the firm, at least 90% of his business was with Italians and Greeks. He related that his having many Sicilians as clients started in the prohibition days, when he had a bootlegger as a client. From that client he obtained other Sicilians as clients. It is noted that IRVING has been the the accountant for several Sicilians whose names have come to the attention of law enforcement offices. It is noted that he was the accountant of the Tropical Bar and Cafe, which was reportedly a hangout around 1947 for Sicilians of questionable character. He was also the accountant for the Sunland Sales Cheese and Olive Oil Company.

IRVING was acquainted with most of MIKE ABATE's associates and claimed that he had no idea that any of them were engaged in any illegal activity until ABATE's arrest in connection with the NICK DE JOHN Murder. IRVING was acquainted with all of the suspects in this murder case.

IRVING advised that he had been acquainted with JAMES LANZA for several years. He advised that he considered JAMES LANZA the "King pin" of the Sicilian element in the San Francisco area. He was questioned as to whether JAMES LANZA or ANTHONY LANZA was the more influential in the Sicilian element. He quickly advised that ANTHONY LANZA was merely the bookkeeper of the firm and that there was no question but what JAMES LANZA was the more important and influential of the two.

IRVING advised that he sold considerable olive oil to the Veronica Olive Oil Company of Oakland, California. This company is owned and operated by the ESPOSITO family. TONY ESPOSITO was in charge until recently when he died.

IRVING advised that once JAMES LANZA remarked to him that if he (IRVING) had any collection problems with Italians, to let him (LANZA) know. IRVING advised that once TONY ESPOSITO of Veronica Olive Oil Company, failed to honor a sight draft. He did not recall the amount of the draft but stated that it would have been a sizable amount as those sight drafts generally ran between $8,000. and $32,000. IRVING stated that he mentioned to JAMES LANZA that TONY ESPOSITO had failed to honor a sight draft. LANZA told him that he (LANZA) would take care of the matter. IRVING stated that within an hour he received a call from TONY ESPOSITO and TONY ESPOSITO told him that he (ESPOSITO) had put a check in the mail for the amount. ESPOSITO requested him to contact him personally the next time there was any misunderstanding relative to their business transactions and requested him not to tell JAMES LANZA about such matters.

IRVING also related that when he purchased the Oro Olive Oil Plant there was a second or third mortgage held by Veronica Olive Oil Company. Through some technicality this mortgage was not cleared by the Government when the Government foreclosed on the Oro Olive Oil Company and sold it to IRVING. TONY ESPOSITO demanded $3,000. from IRVING. IRVING related that he took this matter up with the Government Agency which handled the transaction. He was advised that the technicality would immediately be cleared up but operation at the plant could be held up for probably 60 days by ESPOSITO. IRVING stated he told ABATE that operation could not be started for about 60 days until the matter with ESPOSITO was cleared up.

ABATE desired to know if TONY ESPOSITO was losing any money. IRVING told ABATE that TONY ESPOSITO was not being cheated out of any money and that he did not intend to pay ESPOSITO anything. ABATE then told IRVING that he would talk with ESPOSITO. IRVING related that the day following this conversation ABATE called him in San Francisco and requested IRVING to meet him at LANZA Bros. Office. IRVING stated that he met ABATE at LANZA Bros. Office. He stated that he and MIKE ABATE along with a great big Italian, got into a car. He stated that he had never seen the big Italian before, did not know his name, and has never seen him since. They drove to ESPOSITO's Office in Oakland.

IRVING advised that ABATE and ESPOSITO conversed in Italian about the matter. ABATE desired ESPOSITO to sign the papers releasing the lien. IRVING stated that during the conversation ABATE suddenly slammed his hand on ESPOSITO's desk and said something to the effect, "remember your daddy and my daddy belonged to the same club". IRVING related that shortly after this ESPOSITO asked IRVING to take a walk with him. He and ESPOSITO went for a cup of coffee and following this ESPOSITO signed all of the necessary papers releasing the lien.

IRVING was questioned as to what he thought ABATE meant when he remarked to ESPOSITO that "your daddy and my daddy belonged to the same club". IRVING stated that he could only surmise that ABATE was referring to some such organization as has been called the Mafia.

IRVING was questioned as to whether he had any information that such an organization as has been called the Mafia existed. IRVING replied that he had no facts, but he had seen many strange and unexplainable events occur, which might lead one to suspect that such an organization existed.

He further explained that after starting operations at the Olive Oil Plant he tried to purchase pumice from some Italian olive growers without success, whereupon MIKE ABATE called some of them on the telephone and arranged to get some of the pumice from the same individuals he had contacted, without even setting a definite price to be paid for the pumice. He remarked that he and MIKE ABATE called on one firm operated by Italians to obtain pumice. The operator of the firm was too busy to see them when his business card was sent into the operator's office. Thereafter, MIKE ABATE told the secretary to inform the operator that MIKE ABATE desired to see him. They were immediately shown into the office of the operator of the firm. After conversation, MIKE ABATE was able to obtain pumice from the firm.

It is noted that when SA [redacted] reviewed the INS file on MICHELE ABATE, a memo dated June 1, 1956 from INS Agent, [redacted] was noted in the ABATE file. Among other things the memo stated that HENRY IRVING, employer of ABATE, was in the office on June 1, 1956 to discuss the possibility that ABATE might depart voluntarily to Italy and in this manner protect his interest in the Social Security plan. Mr. IRVING related that in consideration of past services by ABATE, IRVING would pay to ABATE, the sum of $100. per month commencing the months in which ABATE goes to Italy and to continue for a period of five years thereafter.
It had been calculated by Mr. IRVING that in this manner, Mr. ABATE would have an income until he reached Social Security retirement age. Mr. IRVING also remarked that the idea had occurred to him after a conversation with JIMMY LANZA of San Francisco in which it was suggested to him by Mr. LANZA.

b6
b7C

IRVING when being questioned about ABATE, remarked that at one time there was under consideration by ABATE, the possibility of voluntary departure from the United States. IRVING related that he had agreed to pay ABATE the sum of $100. per month until his Social Security could be received in the event ABATE did voluntarily leave the States. IRVING was questioned as to whose idea it was for him to pay ABATE this amount. IRVING related that it was his idea and was not suggested to him by anyone. He further stated that he believed this consideration was due ABATE in view of ABATE's past performance for him at the Olive Oil Plant.

Chief of Police JAMES D. CAHILL, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, Police Department, upon interview on January 3, 1958 advised that JOHN DI BELLA is Manager of the Grande Cheese Company at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and as far as he knows DI BELLA has never been in trouble with law enforcement officials in that city. He stated that his records do not contain DI BELLA's name. He further advised that DI BELLA operates the company in Fond du Lac by himself and that the actual Grande Cheese Company factory is located near Lomira, Wisconsin.

Chief CAHILL stated that the majority of DI BELLA's contacts are in Chicago, Illinois, where the Grande Cheese Company maintains the main office. He stated that at one time, in approximately 1942 or 1943, he recalled that three officials of this company were killed in Chicago, Illinois and at that time it was heard that these individuals were connected with the hoodlum element in that city. He added he has no actualy information on these claims as they occurred in Chicago, Illinois.

Upon re-interview on May 27, 1958 by SA JOHN H. GASSAWAY, [redacted] advised that he is not acquainted with JAMES JOSEPH LANZA and knows of no interest, past or present, that LANZA has had in any cheese company in Wisconsin. He advised that if LANZA is engaged in the brokerage of olives and olive oil, it is very possible that JOHN DI BELLA might have had contact with him purchasing such products for use in his business. [redacted] explained that in certain types of Italian cheese, olives and olive oil are both used.

JOHN DI BELLA, Grande Cheese Company, 1 South Main Street, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, upon interview on April 8, 1958 advised that he was born in Italy and came to the United States from Palermo, Italy in 1940. On April 8, 1958 SA [redacted] observed a car bearing California license ELB 047 parked in front of Subject's office. The driver entered Subject's office at 12:13 p.m. At 12:45 p.m. SA [redacted] observed Subject, JOSEPH MARCONI and this unknown individual leave Subject's office together and go to a nearby restaurant where they had lunch. At 1:16 p.m. the three men returned to Subject's office. At 1:49 p.m. the unknown individual left Subject's office alone, entered his car and drove off. Photograph of this unknown individual was taken.

b6
b7C

Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), Sacramento, California, advised license ELB 047 was issued for 1946 Dodge sedan registered to PIETRO TERRANOVA, 7528 - Seven Hills Road, Castro Valley, California.

On May 12, 1958 the records of the Hayward Office, Credit Bureau of the Greater East Bay were checked by SA JESSE R. WAGNER. These records reflected that PIETRO (PETER) TERRANOVA has lived at 7528 - Seven Hills Road, Castro Valley, since about 1944. He is reportedly about 59 years old and [redacted]

In 1954, which was the date of the last report in this office, TERRANOVA listed his occupation as a food broker, employed by himself and representing the Grande Cheese Company, 254 Lewis Street, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. He claimed at that time to have been representing this company for five years.

There was no identifiable record of TERRANOVA at the Hayward Office of the Sheriff's Department of Alameda County, which is the law enforcement agency for Castro Valley. These records were checked on May 13, 1958 by SA JESSE R. WAGNER.

A physical check of the address at Seven Hills Road, on May 12, 13, and 15, 1958 revealed it to be an older type house surrounded by trees. It appeared that there were several out buildings in the rear which appeared to be rental units. No unusual activity was observed in the area of the house.

On May 15, 1958 San Francisco T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, Bank of America, Castro Valley Branch, identified the photograph of the individual driving the car mentioned above as being at Subject's office on April 8, 1958 as being a photograph of PIETRO TERRANOVA. He said that TERRANOVA has had an account at the bank for at least five years and possibly longer. In the past years TERRANOVA has been issued three courtesy cards which are given only to favored customers. He said that in 1957 and until February 1958 the account was dormant. Since that time he has had slight activity with a few small checks being drawn on it and the balance at the present time is between $300.00 and $400.00. He stated that there did not appear to be any unusual activity in the account since it was reactivated in February 1958.

On April 30, 1958 an informant advised SA C. DARWIN MARRON at San Jose, California, that P. TERRANOVA who operates a cheese business in Castro Valley, is a friend of SALVATORE MARINO and is an individual of considerable wealth.

On April 38, 1958, San Francisco T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA C. DARWIN MARRON, San Jose, that a call was made on February 4, 1958 at 7:32 p.m. for 22 minutes from the telephone at the residence of ANGELO MARINO, San Jose, California to the telephone in Castro Valley, California listed to PETER TERRANOVA, Food Products, 7528 - Seven Hills Road. It is noted that SALVATORE MARINO is the father of ANGELO A. MARINO. SALVATORE and ANGELO MARINO own with ANGELO managing, the California Cheese Company, San Jose, California. Contact between ANGELO MARINO and Subject has previously been set forth in reports. Information relating to SALVATORE and ANGELO MARINO has been previously set forth in reports. It is further noted that ANGELO and SALVATORE MARINO are subjects of separate inquiries in this office to determine if they are engaged in any illegal activity.

It is further noted in regard to SALVATORE DI BELLA that prior to his being deported he resided in San Jose, California for approximately two years around 1950. While in San Jose, California he operated the DI BELLA Importing Company. This company dealt principally in the handling of food stuffs such as cheese, olive oil, etc. Among the employees of the company was SEBASTIANO NANI,

SF 92-123
CPI: [REDACTED] RJ

FBI #3347865. NANI was deported from the United States in February, 1958. It is noted that NANI was recognized by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics as being a major narcotics violator.

It is noted that in the above mentioned letter from Milwaukee dated June 3, 1958 that the Milwaukee Office stated that JOHN DI BELLA speaks very broken English. It was further noted that during the interview of DI BELLA in regard to JOE BONANNO (only information obtained from DI BELLA during this interview which appeared pertinent to the San Francisco Office was set forth), DI BELLA appeared reluctant to discuss JOE BONANNO and his activities to any great extent. Milwaukee advised that DI BELLA would not be re-interviewed unless specifically requested to do so by the San Francisco Office.

By letter dated July 2, 1958 the San Francisco Office furnished the Milwaukee Office the above mentioned information relative to SALVATORE DI BELLA and TERRANOVA. Milwaukee was requested to re-interview JOHN DI BELLA to determine all information in his possession relative to Subject and Subject's associates in the San Francisco area.

It is noted San Francisco letter to Bureau dated April 30, 1958 mentioned above, requested Newark Office to develop information relative to brothers of SALVATORE DI BELLA.

By letter dated June 20, 1958 the Newark Office advised that on June 2, 1958 [REDACTED] the property at 2 Chester Avenue, Bloomfield, New Jersey, which is on the Newark - Bloomfield line, advised SA [REDACTED] that a DI BELLA family formerly owned and operated a grocery store at 2 Chester Avenue, but they have gone from there for 16 to 18 years. He stated that he believed the DI BELLA's now have a grocery store on 15th Avenue, Newark, New Jersey. Investigation revealed that one VINCENZO DI BELLA presently operates a grocery store at 405 15th Avenue, Newark. This store appears to be a small neighborhood grocery store.

On June 11, 1958 [REDACTED] of the Credit Bureau of Greater Newark, Inc., advised IC [REDACTED] that the files of that agency contain no record for VINCENT or VINCENZO DI BELLA.

On June 11, 1958 Patrolman [REDACTED] Bloomfield,
New Jersey, Police Department and Identification Officer [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Newark, New Jersey, Police Department, advised IC [REDACTED] that their respective departments have no record for VINCENT or VINCENZO DI BELLA.

Newark files indicate that on October 25, 1946 a 1937

VINCENT DI BELLA, 40-15th Avenue, Newark, New Jersey, was in the funeral procession of Mrs. JENNIE BOIARDO, [REDACTED]

Newark files further reflect that an anonymous communication dated May 12, 1940 was received in the Newark Office informing that a V. DI BELLA, 4 Chester Avenue, Bloomfield,
New Jersey is engaged in selling alcohol at his grocery store.

Newark files contain no further information identifiable with VINCENT or VINCENZO DI BELLA.

The Newark Office further advised that there is no indication of his being associated with Subject.

"A. That's correct."

"Q. Are you able to identify this JOSEPH CERRITO as a person you drove to Apalachin?

"A. I didn't know him. He was with JAMES LANZA.

"Q. When did you meet him?
"A. When LANZA brought him.

"Q. Did you drive JOSEPH CERRITO to Apalachin?
"A. No. He remained here with Mr. LANZA.

"Q. What were they doing there?

"Q. When did you tell them to stop in?
"A. I don't remember. Topic of the day. I don't remember when it happened.

"Q. Isn't it true you arranged for CERRITO to come to Scranton so you could take him to Apalachin that day?

"A. In a restaurant. Exactly which restaurant I don't recall. I met him in a restaurant.

"Q. When was that?
"A. I don't remember.

"Q. Was it November 12th?
"A. I don't remember.

"Q. Did you meet him the same time you met JOSEPH CERRITO?

"Q. I show you similar records from Hotel Casey, Scranton, on JOE CIVELLO, 4236 Oaklawn, Dallas, Texas, for room rent on November 13, 1957. Did you pay that hotel bill?

"A. Yes, I paid that.

"Q. Would you say in light of this evidence, Mr. BUFALINO, that it was S. SCOZZARI and JOE CIVELLO that you drove up to Apalachin with Mr. DESIMONE?

"A. It might have been.

"Q. Did you bring all five to Scranton, Pennsylvania, in your automobile?

"A. I don't recall that.

"A. Those three I do remember. The other two I don't remember.

"Q. You don't remember whether there were three or five passengers in your car?

"A. I don't remember.

"Q. Did all arrive simultaneously at the Hotel Casey?

"A. I don't think so. In the lobby I remember seeing the two others. I don't know whether they got in ahead of us or with us. I don't remember. They registered all simultaneously. They were all at the desk at the same time.

"Q. Did you arrive together?
"A. I don't remember. They were all there together. If they were all in my car I don't remember. That's the truth. I don't remember.

"Q. When you left New York for Scranton, Pennsylvania, in your automobile, from where did you leave?
"A. I picked them up on a corner - 34th Street. I don't remember. It was downtown.

"A. It may have been. Not in a hotel - outside.

"Q. By arrangement?
"A. That's right, the night before.

"Q. Did you make the same arrangements the night before with LANZA and CERRITO?
"A. I don't remember. I had seen them and I had told them I wanted to see them down here to talk about transacting business in the future. That's all I remember.

"Q. Do you mind telling us the nature of the business?
"A. It might have been wine, oil, fruit.

"Q. Automobile?
"A. I can buy a Ford automobile here. I don't have to see someone from where he comes from to buy an automobile.

"Q. Any other business?
"A. No other business.

"Q. Did either CERRITO or LANZA have an automobile in Scranton?

"A. I don't remember.

The New York Office was requested to furnish the desired information from a review of files to the San Francisco office.

Information relative to ANTHONY PERCONTI, 5521 California Street, San Francisco, California, being a close associate of Subject, has previously been set forth in reports. It is noted that ANTHONY PERCONTI was, during prohibition days in the area of Chicago, Illinois and Gary, Indiana. In 1929 he was involved in a kidnaping case in Chicago, Illinois. In the period around 1929 he had two brothers and a sister-in-law murdered in gangland-type murders in that area. PERCONTI left the area and lived for sometime under an assumed name in Pueblo, Colorado. From Pueblo, Colo. he went to the Los Angeles, California, area and then from that area to San Francisco, California.

ANTHONY PERCONTI was interviewed on July 2, 1958,
by Special Agents [redacted] and CURTIS P. IRWIN, Jr.

b6
b7C

PERCONTI advised that he raised turkeys in Porterville, Calif. for about three years around 1940. From there he went to Lindsay, California. He claimed that at Lindsay, Calif. he went to work as a laborer for the De Lucca Olive Oil Company. JIMMY LANZA was one of the owners and operators of this company at that time. He stated that he met JIMMY LANZA while working for him at this Olive Oil Co. in Lindsay, Calif. He was asked if LANZA lived in Lindsay while running the plant. He stated that JIMMY LANZA did live in Lindsay, Calif. while operating the plant. He did not relate the length of time he worked for the De Lucca Olive Oil Co., the length of time LANZA resided in Lindsay, Calif., or the length of time he knew LANZA in Lindsay, California.

PERCONTI related that from Lindsay, Calif. he moved to San Francisco, Calif. He stated that he had been in San Francisco for about twelve years. He stated that when he came to San Francisco LANZA helped him locate a house and also a business to buy. He advised that since that time LANZA Brothers had handled all of his insurance. Since that time he has handled a great deal of the laundry and cleaning for the LANZA family.

PERCONTI related that he knew absolutely nothing about the LANZA's business as he never inquired into other people's affairs. To his knowledge he said they were in the insurance, real estate and olive oil business. PERCONTI stated that he worked hard at his own business, put in long hours, never went anywhere, attended to his own business, and never inquired into the affairs of other people.

PERCONTI refused to furnish any other information relative to LANZA. To many questions asked of him PERCONTI replied that he did not know what Agents were talking about. He was specifically asked who was the most influential Sicilian in the San Francisco area. To this question, which was asked him several times in different manners, he always replied that he did not know what Agent was talking about.

SF 92-123
CPI/vcm

PERCONTI avoided answering questions, refused to answer questions, and denied knowledge of certain facts asked of him which were known to be in his possession. At completion of the interview Agents remarked that they would talk with him again. At this time PERCONTI stated that there was no point in talking with him again as he had furnished all the information in his possession relative to Subject.

By letter dated June 17, 1958, the Dallas Office advised that [redacted] of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, Dallas, Texas, advised SA [redacted] on June 2, 1958, that their records do not reflect any connection between JAMES JOSEPH LANZA and JOSEPH FRANCIS CIVELLO.

On May 5, 1958, Special Agents JAMES C. CONNORS and FRANK R. WARNER observed an individual who was approximately 32 years of age, 5'11", 160 pounds, driving a Chevrolet bearing California License MTZ197 stop at Subject's office. ANTHONY LANZA, brother of Subject, with this unknown individual brought two cardboard cartons from the office and placed them in the rear of the car. Both individuals returned to the office where they remained for a short period of time. Following this the individual returned to his car and left the area.

Department of Motor Vehicles, Sacramento, California, advised that 1958 License MTZ197 was issued for a 1957 Chevrolet registered to [redacted]

On June 11, 1958, SA [redacted] contacted [redacted] Investigator, State Food and Marketing Administration, California Department of Agriculture, 1220 N Street, Sacramento, California. [redacted] advised that he was not acquainted with Subject. However, in examining his records he found that on December 28, 1950, the State Department of Agriculture had held a hearing in Sacramento to determine whether or not FRANK SCAPPATURA should be given a license. At this hearing LANZA appeared as a character reference for SCAPPATURA. In testimony before the hearing, LANZA stated that his name was JOHN J. LANZA and that he was engaged in business as a food broker at 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, in a concern known as Lanza Brothers. He said that he had been in this business for thirty years and previously had been a wine maker and olive processor. He said that he had known SCAPPATURA since 1945 and did occasional business with him. He stated that he had always had good business relations with SCAPPATURA. He claimed that he knew nothing derogatory about SCAPPATURA.

It is noted that in previous reports information has been set forth relative to telephonic contact between the home telephone number of Subject and the telephone at the residence of VINCENZO INFUSINO, Oakdale, California. It is also noted that previous information has been set forth relative to telephonic contact between the telephone listed to Oro Olive Oil Company, Oroville, California, (which plant is mentioned by MIKE ABATE), and the telephone listed to VINCENZO INFUSINO, at Oakdale, California.

Review of the INS File pertaining to MIKE ABATE, mentioned above as being reviewed by SA [redacted] in April, 1958, disclosed information pertaining to INFUSINO. This file reflected that INFUSINO formerly resided at 379 East 3rd Street, Pittsburg, California. INFUSINO was interviewed by INS Agents regarding MIKE ABATE in connection with deportation proceedings of MIKE ABATE. When interviewed by INS Agents, INFUSINO stated that he met MIKE ABATE through TOM BUFFA in 1941.

b6

At the time TOM BUFFA was murdered in Lodi, California, on March 27, 1947, BUFFA and INFUSINO were partners in a tavern at Lodi. INFUSINO claimed he was naturalized in St. Louis, Missouri, and came to California in 1940. INFUSINO, according to this file, is identical with St. Louis Police Department Number 31440 and was arrested there on August 20, 1930, for suspicion of robbery.

It is known that on March 29, 1947, THOMAS BUFFA, was., was killed while riding in his car in downtown Lodi, California, by an individual in a car which drove alongside of his car and fired two bursts from a shotgun at him. The murder car sped away and about two blocks from the scene of the murder a double-barrelled shotgun was thrown from the car. The murder was never solved.

THOMAS BUFFA was a son-in-law of SAM LIMA, Lodi, California, whose name was and is still well known in that area as at one time being a leader among the Sicilian element, according to [redacted] Intelligence Section, San Francisco Police Department. SAM LIMA, according to Sergeant [redacted] is residing at the present time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. TONY LIMA, in San Francisco. SAM LIMA, according to Sgt. [redacted] is old and feeble at the present time.

BUFFA's criminal record dated from 1928 when he was arrested for murder. Since that time he was arrested on numerous occasions for robbery, extortion, state liquor laws and Federal narcotics laws. According to information received from the Federal Bureau of Narcotics by SA [redacted] in 1947, included among BUFFA's criminal associates were [redacted], JOHN VITALE, [redacted] of St. Louis, Missouri; [redacted] Kansas City, Missouri; [redacted] and SANTOS TRAFICANTE of Tampa, Florida.

In regard to the criminal associates of BUFFA mentioned above, it is noted that one SANTOS TRAFICANTE attended the meeting of hoodlums in Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957. It is also noted that one JOHN VITALE, is a top hoodlum in the St. Louis Office and one [redacted] is a top hoodlum in the [redacted]

On June 13, 1958, [redacted] Secretary to the Administrator of the Pittsburg Community Hospital, Pittsburg, California, made available to SA RICHARD E. NICHOLS her records relative to the employment of VINCENZO INFUSINO. These records indicated that INFUSINO was born at Licata, Italy, on April 29, 1895. He was a naturalized citizen of the United States, though the date and place of naturalization was not indicated on his records. His wife was listed as CARMELA, and a [redacted] He formerly attended an agricultural school in Italy. He indicated that he had been self-employed from 1915 to 1930 at St. Louis, Missouri, and that he had worked from 1940 to 1945 as a pipe-fitter, place not indicated. It was indicated that from 1930 to 1940 he was self-employed "merchandising." His address in Pittsburg was indicated as 379 East Third Street, Pittsburg, California. He was employed at the Pittsburg Community Hospital from May 18, 1954 to October 8, 1954, at which time he resigned. He worked as a laborer and primarily did janitorial work. No reason was listed for his resignation.

A review on June 13, 1958 by SA NICHOLS was made of the files of the Retail Credit Bureau of Pittsburg and the Pittsburg Police Department and no record at these two agencies could be found of INFUSINO.

On April 30, 1958, SA FRANCIS X. GANTLEY observed Luxor Radio Cab #141 parked in front of Subject's office at 10:25 a.m. There were no passengers in the cab. The driver, without carrying anything in his hands, entered the office of Subject. At 10:56 a.m. the driver left the office, entered his cab and drove off. When he left the office he was not carrying anything and was alone.

On June 26, 1958, [redacted] Luxor Radio Cab, 1380 Bush Street, San Francisco, advised SA [redacted] that records of the cab company disclosed that during this period Cab #141 was driven by ALPHONSE J. LA ROCCA, who resides at 769 Chestnut Street, and has telephone number: GRaystone 4-2384.

It is noted that Subject is an associate of some members of the LA ROCCA family.

San Francisco T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised from records available to him that telephone calls have been made from the residence telephone of Subject to telephone number: VAlenicia 6-3680 in San Francisco. T-2 advised that calls have been made to this number on September 14, 1957; September 24, 1957; September 29, 1957; October 6, 1957; October 12, 1957; October 24, 1957 and January 2, 1958.

T-2 advised that telephone number: VAlenicia 6-3680 in San Francisco is listed to GREGORY GENOVESE, 913 Valencia Street, Apartment 5, San Francisco, California.

CPI/vcm

A search of the records of the San Francisco Police Department and also the Retailers Credit Association, San Francisco, Calif. on May 19, 1958, by SA IRWIN failed to locate any identifiable record of this GREGORY GENOVESE.

On May 19, 1958, SF T-2 advised SA IRWIN that, according to records available to him, GREGORY GENOVESE at the time of having his phone installed listed his occupation as student at College of Physicians and Surgeons. (It is noted that San Francisco Telephone Directory lists School of Dentistry at 344 - 14th Street, San Francisco, California.)

T-2 advised that as of May 29, 1958, the telephone listed for GENOVESE was on a vacation rate and GENOVESE was reportedly at the home of his father in Tucson, Arizona. His father resides at 2717 Arroya Chico, Tucson, Arizona, and has telephone number: EA 5-4397.

It is noted that Subject has an [redacted]

It is noted that previous reports have set forth information relative to DANIEL MARINI, Peninsula Linen Supply Company, being a close associate of Subject. It is further noted that it has previously been reported that an Informant observed Subject, JOSEPH CERRITO and DANNY MARINI having lunch with a prospective laundry customer during the Spring of 1957, wherein MARINI was attempting to obtain the laundry contract from the prospective customer.

On March 31, 1958, Special Agents JAMES R. BENNETT and MAX H. FISCHER interviewed [redacted]
[redacted] Redwood City, California, who is employed by

SF 92-123
CPI/vcm

H. Kohnstamm and Co., Inc., a laundry chemical supply company. [redacted] stated that he was employed by DAN MARINI for a period of seven years until about one and one-half years ago and that he has absolutely no use for MARINI because of a disagreement over an amount of money for certain sales work. He stated, however, that he still calls upon the companies with which MARINI is affiliated and occasionally sells them laundry equipment.

b6
b7C

According to [redacted] DAN MARINI heads the Peninsula Linen Exchange Company which has five plants in Northern California.

The first of the five plants is located at 3840 - 18th Street, San Francisco, and is generally referred to as the San Francisco Exchange Linen Service and is under the operation of [redacted]

[redacted] A second plant located at 35 Delma Street, San Jose, California, is under the supervision of [redacted]

It is presently part of the DAN MARINI Enterprise and operated by (FNU) [redacted] another [redacted]

[redacted] stated that DAN MARINI and his brother-in-law, NICHOLAS BRUNI, came to California from New York City during the middle 1930s and set up a laundry service known as the California General Linen Supply Company. Sometime during the early 1940s DAN MARINI bought out NICHOLAS BRUNI and became the sole owner of this business. However, when his [redacted] about the time World War II started, indicated that he was not going to assist his father in his business, [redacted], became part owner of the California General Linen Supply Company, and assisted DAN MARINI in its operation.

SF 92-123
CPI/vcm

[redacted] stated that the linen supply business is an extremely competitive business and major companies operating in the field have set out an association which meets once a month to discuss mutual problems. This organization rules with an iron hand over the laundries in this area and is master-minded, according to [redacted] by an Attorney in San Francisco by the name of [redacted]

b6

According to [redacted] each laundry will go all out to obtain the contract with any potential customer and often will promise him concessions way out of line with what they can actually produce. However, once the customer signs a contract with one laundry all other laundry competitors will thereafter completely lay hands off and the company with the initial contract will be free thereafter to raise prices and cut concessions to the point where the contract is profitable. In the event the customer decides that he no longer wishes to do business with the laundry and again calls in competitors to bid on the contract, the competitors will place a complimentary bid which would actually be much higher than the fee being charged by the initial contract holder.

Other than the unethical way in which MARINI operates his business, [redacted] stated that he had no information indicating that MARINI might be engaged in any illegal activity.

[redacted] identified MARINI's long-time secretary, [redacted] who lives on Chestnut Street in San Francisco, California, as MARINI's paramour for a period of at least twenty years. He stated that this was common knowledge throughout the linen supply industry and that, furthermore, MARINI's wife and family reportedly were acquainted with this fact.

[redacted] On May 24, 1958, (Saturday), Special Agents [redacted] JAMES B. BENNETT and MAX H. FISCHER observed Subject leave his residence and proceed to the Bay Meadows Racetrack where he parked his automobile in the reserved parking area. Subject entered the racetrack and was observed to occupy a seat in Box F-303, which had a name plate of "D. FULLER." It was also observed that the second box to the left of the one bearing the name "D. FULLER," was Box F-305 and this box was listed to D. MARINI. At the time Subject arrived at his seat the box was occupied by three well-dressed Italian males, one of whom was identified as DAN MARINI.

b7C

Racing at Bay Meadows Racetrack at this time consists of Quarter-horse racing and harness racing. It is further noted that Subject was also observed to go to these races on Decoration Day, May 30, 1958, and the Saturday following.

SF 92-123
CPI/vcm

On June 25, 1958, SA MAX H. FISCHER contacted Chief of Police MARTIN C. MC DONNELL, San Mateo, Calif. Police Department relative to the identity of D. FULLER. Chief MC DONNELL advised that D. FULLER was DANA FULLER, an executive of the Fuller Paint Company, who died in San Francisco, Calif. about June 18, 1958. FULLER was a relative of the founder of the paint company and for many years was known around San Francisco as a prominent socialite and one of the country's outstanding polo players and sportsmen. He was fifty-five years of age at the time of his death and resided at 222 Walnut Street, San Francisco. FULLER, according to Chief MC DONNELL, served as a Member of the Executive Committee of the Fuller Paint Company for many years and has always had the reputation of being an outstanding citizen.

According to Chief MC DONNELL, the fact that Subject sat in FULLER's box at the Racetrack is not necessarily indicative of anything important because the regular group who attended the Quarter-Horse and Harness-Horse Race Meet all seem to know each other and move around from box to box freely in order to discuss and comment upon the races.

On June 1, 1958, SA's [redacted] and HERBERT K. They entered the orchard and parked at the rear of the house. The name on the house and mailbox was F. J. GENOVESE, P. O. Box 337, Route 1, Cupertino. Subject and the other two individuals picked some cherries in the orchard, placed them in the car, and returned to subject's home.

Indices of the San Francisco Office contain no identifiable record of F. J. GENOVESE.

On June 18, 1958, [redacted] Merchants Credit Association, 222 South Second Street, San Jose, California, furnished SA DONALD W. KUNO information contained in the files of that organization. The files reflected that on April 8, 1954, FRANK JOSEPH GENOVESE age 49, [redacted] He had owned a 15 acre farm for 14 years at Cupertino, California, from which he claimed an income of $10,000 a year.

According to the file, he maintained a low four figure commercial account and a low two figure savings account at his bank. His former residences were listed at 175 Palm, San Jose; Route 1, Box 339 Mountain View in 1942; 1053 Willow Street, San Jose; Route 3, Box 9, Mountain View on May 28, 1946; Route 1, Box 337 Lawrence Road, Cupertino.

[redacted] San Jose Police Department advised SA KUNO on June 18, 1958, that records at the San Jose Police Department and Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office contain no identifiable record of GENOVESE. A check by SA KUNO on June 18, 1958, of the Santa Clara Police Department records disclosed no identifiable record of FRANK JOSEPH GENOVESE.

CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

In April 1958 SA [redacted] reviewed, as mentioned above, the file of Immigration and Naturalization Service, San Francisco on MICHELE ABATE, with aliases. Among other things, the file contained an interview in September 1951 by Immigration and Naturalization Service Agent [redacted] of [redacted] [redacted] operator of an olive oil plant at Orland, California, was interviewed concerning his knowledge of ABATE. Among other things, [redacted] stated that he suspected that ABATE was a member of the Mafia. He stated that ABATE was a very good friend of ANTHONY and JAMES LANZA, San Francisco, whom he also suspected of being in the Mafia. [redacted] made the remark that LANZA's father was known to be a "judge" in the Mafia.

On June 27, 1958, SF T-4, whose reliability is unknown, but who knows many Sicilians in the United States, advised SA's [redacted] and C. DARWIN MARRON that he had heard subject's name, but that he did not know him. He further stated he had no information relative to any illegal activities on the part of subject.

[redacted] SF T-3, mentioned above, advised SA [redacted] on June 11, 1958, that he has never known subject to be engaged in any illegal activities. He said subject might have been engaged in bootlegging during prohibition days, but he had no definite knowledge of this fact. Furthermore, he stated that to many Italians, bootlegging was not considered a crime, but merely a business. T-3 stated that other than the possibility that subject was engaged in bootlegging during prohibition days, he had no information indicating that subject might at any time have been involved in any illegal activities.

LEGITIMATE ENTERPRISES

On May 14, 1958, SA ROBERT L. HAMILTON accompanied SF T-6 on an inspection of the building at 559 Washington Street, San Francisco. SF T-6 has the authority through his official position to make thorough and detailed inspection of building premises. Proper arrangements were made for SA HAMILTON to accompany SF T-6 without SA HAMILTON's identity being disclosed to individuals at 559 Washington Street. SA HAMILTON noted that subject was not present at any time during this inspection, and contact was had only with ANTHONY LANZA. ANTHONY LANZA, upon being apprised of the purpose of the contact by SF T-6, fully cooperated with SF T-6 in making the premises entirely available and answering all of the questions of SF T-6 regarding the building. ANTHONY LANZA advised that he has been the owner of the premises for the past 35 years and that his current business activity is real estate and insurance.

The space which is currently occupied by the LANZA BROTHERS measures approximately 18 feet by 70 feet and is divided generally into three sections which occupy approximately 1/3 of the space each. The front section contains a bench for visitors in front of a narrow counter which extends over a great portion of the building. Behind this counter there are two large desks and a large safe which measures roughly three feet on each side. The safe is identified as a Herring-Hall-Marvin safe, which is believed to be of a three tumbler type. Contained on the walls of this space were three signs which read: (1) Standard Accident Insurance Company of Milwaukee, and (3) The Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York.

The center section of this space contains both a storage area and a glass and wood enclosed office. This office contains a second safe of similar size as the one mentioned above, as well as a desk and two file drawers. The desk contained numerous papers and appeared to be in current use. The storage area of this section contained 35 cardboard cases measuring roughly 18" x 30" x 10". These cardboard cases were labeled Cerva Olive Oil and bore an ink stamp of the Musco Company, Oakland, California. These cases contained one-gallon cans of olive oil and it was estimated that each case contained six such cans. When questioned concerning the presence of these cases of olive oil in the office which purported to deal in real estate and insurance, ANTHONY LANZA appeared to reluctantly but hurriedly advise that he and his brother "did a very small brokerage business in olive oil". He also remarked hurriedly that the cases were being stored in the building only temporarily. He stated that they did not process the oil, nor did they maintain any inventory or warehouse for that product.

Also contained in this middle section was a long, chest high, wooden table piled with old ledgers and books. This space also contained a sink and a toilet.

The third, or rear section of this space did not appear to be used currently and appeared to be an obvious old storage area of materials and equipment which related to wine making activities. In this regard, ANTHONY LANZA volunteered that many years ago the LANZA family had operated a bonded winery at this address.

The basement, which is accessible through a trap door in the sidewalk at the front of the building was also inspected. The basement was entirely empty and very clean.

It was noted that during the 1½ hour inspection there were no customers who appeared at the establishment and only one telephone call was received. The inspection occurred in the morning. Shortly before the inspection terminated, MARIO PRIZIN-ZANO, who is an uncle of subject, entered the front space, immediately seated himself, and began reading a daily newspaper.

No other information of value was learned during this inspection.

On May 6, 1958, SA's JAMES C. CONNORS and HERBERT K. MUDD, Jr. observed a truck registered to Veronica Olive Oil Company, Oakland, park in front of subject's office. The driver of the truck, with the assistance of the subject, unloaded six five-gallon, rectangular, unmarked cans from the truck and one package of corrugated cartons. These items were placed in the office of the subject.

On May 8, 1958, SA's [redacted] [redacted] observed subject place seven cartons in the trunk of his car and drive off.

SA HERBERT K. TUFK observed the car as it was departing from subject's office, mentioned above, on May 8, 1958. SA MUDI observed the car drive from subject's office to the Howard Terminal in Oakland, California. Subject drove his automobile into Section A of Howard Terminal pier and removed seven cartons from his automobile. Subject then left the terminal in his automobile.

[redacted] Howard Terminal, made available on May 8, 1958, to SA MUDI, the bill of lading for the shipment which had been left by the subject. The bill of lading reflected that the shipment was from Lanza Brothers, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California, to be delivered to [redacted]

[redacted], Brooklyn, New York. The bill of lading called for seven five-gallon cans of pure California olive oil. The weight of this shipment was given as 287 pounds. The shipment was to be sent via the Edward Luchenbach Steamship Company due to sail on May 18, 1958, and proceed directly to Brooklyn, New York.

[redacted] was questioned as to the frequency with which LANZA brought such shipments to the pier in his personally owned automobile. [redacted] stated that this was the first occasion on which he had handled such a shipment for Lanza Brothers. [redacted] telephonically contacted [redacted] of the shipping department of the Howard Terminal and was advised by him that on several occasions the LANZA brothers have shipments delivered to the terminal from local olive oil companies where they are stored until the LANZA brothers make arrangements for their transportation to their customers.

[redacted] advised that on that date he was holding a shipment of 25 cases containing six one-gallon cans of olive oil bearing the trade name of "Cerva", which shipment was received from the Musco Olive Products Company, Oakland, California, and was being held for Lanza Brothers. The invoice for this shipment reflected that the 25 cases are to be forwarded to C. CASSARO, 3355 East Boulevard, Cleveland, Ohio. It is noted that information pertaining to CASSARO has previously been set forth in reports.

On May 15, 1958, arrangements were completed for SF T-7 to take X-ray photographs of the above mentioned seven cartons to be shipped by subject to Brooklyn, New York. On May 15, 1958, SF T-7 took X-ray photographs of all seven cartons.

The X-ray photographs disclosed that three of the cans appeared to have a foreign substance in the cans.

On May 17, 1958, all of the X-ray photographs taken by T-7 were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination and evaluation by the FBI Laboratory.

It is noted that [redacted] [redacted] Federal Bureau of Narcotics, San Francisco, was advised of the information pertaining to the above shipment and the X-ray photographs obtained.

extremely dark, and thus, it was possible that objects could be present which were not detectable due to over-exposure. Bureau stated that what was reported as possible foreign substance in cans were actually blemishes on the film resulting from careless development of the film

(This would make FRANK DESIMONE the cousin of Mrs. TONINA LANZA who is the wife of ANTHONY LANZA, brother of the Subject.) #### PERSONAL HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

On August 4, 1958, San Francisco T-5, who has furnished insufficient information in the past to judge his reliability, was interviewed by SAs [redacted] and IRWIN. Informant advised that he met Subject about 1945 around the Tropical Cafe on Drumm Street, San Francisco. He related that he did not know Subject's father. He was questioned as to what he had heard about Subject's father in relation to the wealth of Subject's father. He stated that he had heard that the Subject's father, who was known as FRANK LANZA, was well-to-do financially.

He stated that he had heard that FRANK LANZA made his money in grapes and vineyards in the "valley". He understood this to be in the area of possibly Lodi, Fresno, or even farther south than Fresno. He stated that he understood that FRANK LANZA owned vineyards before Prohibition and then when Prohibition came into effect as others were selling their vineyards FRANK LANZA bought them cheaply. Informant was unable to furnish any more specific information relative to FRANK LANZA.

In discussing the olive oil business in its relation to Subject informant related that he understood that Subject at one time was in partnership with (FNU) [redacted]. He believed that Subject and his brother and possibly others were in partnership with [redacted] in the operation of an olive oil plant in the Lindsay, California, area. He described [redacted] as being from New York City and being well-known in the olive oil industry. He related that [redacted] owned the "Leghorn Olive Oil Company" in New York City. He stated

b7C

SF 92-123
CPI/CJM

that recently [redacted] purchased the Valabregue Plant near Porterville, California.

The informant mentioned another individual known to him as "ROCCA" who probably knew the Subject. He advised that ROCCA owns the "Pacific Vegetable Oil Company on 3rd Street, San Francisco. He related that ROCCA is between sixty-five and seventy years of age and has been in the San Francisco area for many years. ROCCA started this particular company and is well-known in this field. He related that ROCCA is a Sicilian and all Sicilians know him.

b6
b7C

He related that ROCCA is quite wealthy and is held in great respect by the Sicilians known to the informant. He related that he had heard that when FRANK SCAPPATURA was taking over the Coronet Olive Oil Company in Oroville ROCCA guaranteed at the bank an account up to $30,000.00 for SCAPPATURA.

Informant advised that the Veronica Olive Oil Company in Oakland, California, [redacted] He advised that TONY ESPOSITO, SR. died in 1957.

SF T-5 related that he considered Subject to be the most influential Sicilian in the San Francisco area. To support his opinion SF T-5 related an experience he had with TONY ESPOSITO, SR. As he recalled this incident occurred about three years ago. He related that TONY ESPOSITO was a little slow in payment of an account. He was hazy as to the amount involved but suspected that it might have been around $20,000.00. This fact was mentioned to JIMMY LANZA. Subject remarked that he would take care of the matter.

SF T-5 advised that within an hour or two he received a call from TONY ESPOSITO, SR. in regard to the matter. ESPOSITO, SR. informed him that he had put a check in the mail for the entire amount. Furthermore, ESPOSITO, SR. requested him not to tell Subject about such matters in the future if such should occur but to come directly to him.

SF T-5 further advised that MIKE ABATTI, Manager of the Oro Olive Oil Company, Oroville, California, relies very heavily on advice and information from Subject. Informant related that

SF 92-123
CPI/CJM

ABATI, who has been mentioned in previous reports, agrees with whatever Subject says and follows the advice and instructions of the Subject right to the very end.

Informant related that when ABATI was arrested by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) in 1954 that the first person ABATI called or had called was Subject. Informant was very specific in this matter and stated that he knew definitely that LANZA was the first person called.

To further support his opinion informant related that when FRANK SCAPPATURA got into difficulty in the operation of the Coronet Olive Oil Company, their mortgages were being foreclosed, the first person he called was Subject. Informant advised that among the Sicilians he knows the person whose advice the Sicilians always seek and rely on when in difficulty is the Subject!

SF T-5 related that [redacted], who is personally known to informant, appears to be held in high esteem by the Sicilians whom he (informant) knows.

He described [redacted] as one appearing to be a "step higher" in respect to position, authority, and reputation to Subject. He has gathered this impression from remarks heard about [redacted] and from observing the actions of Sicilians in his presence.

b6

Informant stated that he believed that [redacted] had recently returned to the United States from Sicily. He remarked that [redacted] was a close associate of MIKE ABATI and also of Subject. He advised that [redacted] comes to the West Coast periodically to transact business in olives and olive oil.

SF T-5 was questioned about any information he had relative to the sources of the money for the defense of the individuals indicted in the NICK DE JOHN murder case. Informant related that he had no information as to who arranged for the money or the source of the money.

He related that FRANK SCAPPATURA told him that he contacted his attorney who had defended him in an OPA violation hearing. Informant did not recall the name of this attorney but recalled that at the time he had an office in the Riss Building and described him as a tall, white-haired attorney who did not specialize in criminal matters.

SF 92-123

b6
b7C

This attorney arranged for the criminal attorney who actually handled the case according to information he had obtained from SCAPPATURA. Informant had no other information relative to the names, preparation, or activities relative to the defense and trial.

SF T-5 was questioned as to any other close friends and associates of Subject known to him. Informant related that Subject had mentioned JOE ALTO, Attorney, as a friend. Subject has also mentioned [redacted] who have a fish business on Clay Street near Subject's Office. Informant could mention no other close associates of Subject known to him.

In the report of SA CHARLES E. STINE, dated July 31, 1958, at Los Angeles, captioned "FRANK DESIMONE, was.; ANTI-RACKETEERING", information is set forth on 7 Pages 24 and 25 relative to NICOLO SCHIRO as being an associate of DESIMONE. The information reports SCHIRO's address as being 265 North 15th Street, Bloomfield, New Jersey, and is a 1947 address. This address was obtained from a letter addressed to DESIMONE.

Included in the information set forth is information that the Newark Office on June 11, 1958, advised that an informant of the Newark Office advised that SCHIRO until 1928 operated out of a front store at the corner of Marcy and Walabout Streets, Brooklyn, New York, as a very powerful figure in the Mafia and a controlling factor in Brooklyn at that time. The informant stated that SCHIRO's friends included a wealthy San Francisco friend named LANZA of 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California.

According to the informant, SCHIRO learned that the Mafia planned to kidnap LANZA and hold him for high ransom. SCHIRO allegedly informed LANZA of the kidnap plot. According to informant others in the Mafia found out that SCHIRO had "informed" and in early 1929 held a meeting at Andover, New Jersey, to decide the fate of SCHIRO. The informant related that SCHIRO had been held in high regard by the Mafia and in consideration of this his life was spared. However, he had to pay $300,000.00 to the Mafia and relinquish all control of the rackets in and around Brooklyn.

SF 92-123

It is noted that the records of the California Bureau of Vital Statistics, Sacramento, California, disclosed a record of a Certificate of Marriage, LAL468966, reflecting that ANTHONY N. LANZA, age 30, born in Italy, residing at 1020 Francisco Street, San Francisco, California, and TONINA M. DESIMONE, age 20, born in Colorado, residing at 4166 Woodlawn Avenue, Los Angeles, California, were married January 20, 1929 at Los Angeles, California. Witness to the marriage was given as NICOLA SCHIRO, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California.

It is noted that TONINA M. DESIMONE, mentioned above as wife of ANTHONY N. LANZA, is a cousin of FRANK DESIMONE, Downey, California, with whom NICOLA SCHIRO, Bloomfield, New Jersey, is connected as an associate.

By letters dated August 15, 1958, and September 4, 1958, the Newark Office was requested to conduct further investigation relative to NICOLA SCHIRO. It is noted the San Francisco Office has no further information relative to SCHIRO. It is possible that the SCHIRO at Bloomfield, New Jersey, is identical with the SCHIRO who was a witness to the marriage of ANTHONY LANZA.

"Dearest Cousin,

"Recently, we had the unexpected visit of three Americans. One of them was [redacted]. In addition to the news, they also brought us your dear flower (sic) which you sent to us.

"Dear Cousin, I do not know how to thank you. I can hardly find words to that effect. I could not have expected so much from you, despite the fact that you are my cousin. In fact you have never written to us. I hope that we will continue to correspond now that we have broken the silence.

"As you know, I am alone with two orphans. I do now know whose fault it is (sic) but I am leaving that to your imagination. I hope that God will always help me.

"As I understand your letter, you have perhaps recommended [redacted] to ask me about the terrible catastrophe which took place in our home. Actually, I wish to unbosom myself and [redacted] will tell you all later. However, they (the three Americans) spoke with Mr. [redacted] that is, [redacted] the very man who killed the members of our family.

"Consequently, we refrained from talking when they came to see us, because we knew that they had already talked with [redacted]. We waited for them to talk first. However, they did not say a single considerate word, they did not ask about the widows or the orphans. Briefly, they did not ask about anybody or anything. It is noted that the name [redacted] appears to be a rather unusual Italian name. It is possible that the [redacted] family mentioned in the above quoted letter is related to the [redacted] family at Easton, Pennsylvania.

SF 92-123
CPI/CJM

It is noted that Subject has stated that he has relatives in Easton, Pennsylvania, and indicated that they were in-laws. It is further noted that the wife of Subject's brother is a cousin of FRANK DESIMONE.

By letter dated August 15, 1958, the Philadelphia Office was furnished the above information and requested to conduct appropriate investigation.

On July 21, 1958, SAs [redacted] and CURTIS P. IRWIN, JR., interviewed J. C. CHIRI, 193 South Bernardo Avenue, Mountain View, California, at his residence. It is noted that J. C. CHIRI is a brother of SALVATORE CHARLES CHIRI, Fort Lee, New Jersey, who attended the meeting of hoodlums at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957. It is further noted that J. C. CHIRI was previously interviewed by Bureau Agents relative to the whereabouts of his brother. Shortly after J. C. CHIRI was interviewed by Bureau Agents relative to the whereabouts of his brothers, CHIRI was observed contacting Subject at Subject's office.

CHIRI advised that he was born in Sicily. He stated that he had been in this area since 1918. It is noted that he presently owns and operates a cherry orchard consisting of ten acres. He related that prior to obtaining the orchard he had been a plastering contractor in the San Francisco area.

CHIRI advised that he was acquainted with FRANK LANZA, father of JAMES and ANTHONY LANZA. He related that FRANK LANZA was building a building in San Francisco. A mutual friend requested him to contact FRANK LANZA relative to the building. CHIRI related that he did not desire the job as his equipment was in outlying areas at the time, however, he did contact FRANK LANZA and discuss the building with him. His acquaintance with FRANK LANZA continued from that time.

He was questioned as to the source of FRANK LANZA's wealth which allegedly FRANK LANZA had. CHIRI stated that he believed FRANK LANZA had a ranch, farm, or vineyard, somewhere in Southern California. He believed that this was the source of FRANK LANZA's money. He stated that FRANK LANZA lost a great deal of money in the "crash" in 1929. He stated that he doubted very much that FRANK LANZA was a wealthy individual after that period. He stated that a mutual friend, whose name he declined to divulge, once remarked that FRANK LANZA had loaned him some money, but shortly after the loan, requested a payment since the bank was pressing FRANK LANZA for money according to the story FRANK LANZA gave to the mutual friend when requesting repayment of the loan.

SF 92-123
CPI/GJM

He claimed that to the best of his knowledge, FRANK LANZA was not engaged in bootlegging in any manner. He related that he knew of nothing relative to illegal activities on the part of FRANK LANZA.

He related that he knew the family of FRANK LANZA. However, he stated that he did not know JAMES and ANTHONY, sons of FRANK LANZA, too well. However, he stated that whenever he was in San Francisco and it was convenient for him to do so, he would stop by the office of Subject and talk with him. He related that the last time he saw JAMES LANZA was about two or three months prior to the interview. He related that he had thought about taking a trip to Europe this spring, or somewhere, and was in San Francisco relative to information about passage to Europe. He advised that he contacted a travel agency on Columbus Avenue, which by his description would probably have been the Fugazi Travel Agency. He remarked that this travel agency was a block or so from LANZA's office and as a result he dropped by LANZA's office and talked to JAMES LANZA. He stated definitely that he talked with JAMES LANZA and not with ANTHONY LANZA.

He was questioned as to whether this contact with Subject was before or after his (CHIRI) being contacted by Bureau Agents. He stated that he thought it was before his being contacted by Bureau Agents. He was told that it was after the contact. He stated that it might have been, but he still thought he contacted LANZA prior to being contacted by Bureau Agents. He denied that he discussed with LANZA the fact that Bureau Agents had interviewed him. He denied that he discussed his brother, SALVATORE, in any manner with JAMES LANZA. He stated that he did not know whether JAMES LANZA actually knew his brother. He stated that it was possible that JAMES LANZA did know his brother but he had no definite information to that effect. However, when questioned, he stated that his brother had been in the San Francisco area about twelve years ago. He did not elaborate on this fact.

CPI/GJM

He was questioned relative to his knowledge of JOSEPH CERRITO. He readily admitted knowing CERRITO and quickly came forward with the facts surrounding his acquaintance with CERRITO. He stated that some years ago, CERRITO bought an old house and desired to fix up the house. Again a mutual friend requested him to contact CERRITO and give CERRITO advice. CHIRI stated that he was not in the contracting business at the time and did not desire to get involved with other people's building projects. However, he did contact CERRITO and furnish him advice on the plastering of his house. He stated that he believed that he had had one other contact with CERRITO, but he did not recall when, where, or the circumstances. He stated that he knew nothing else relative to CERRITO and had no other information pertaining to CERRITO's activities, contacts, or associates.

CHIRI denied knowing NANI, TONY LIMA, FRANK SCAPPATURA, or others connected with the DE JOHN murder case. He admitted reading about the murder case but stated that he knew nothing about the case or anything about the individuals who were considered the principal suspects in the case.

He was questioned relative to the organization or association which some call "Mafia". CHIRI would neither clearly deny or admit the existence of such an association. He stated that he personally did not believe that there was such an organization. However, when Agents stated that from evidence and information known to Agents, there was such an association, CHIRI did remark that Agents might be right. He did admit that there were some Italians and especially Sicilians who liked to drive big cars, wear nice clothes, enjoy good living, but who did not like to work. He stated that there were some such individuals who tried to live off of the other Sicilians who did work. But again he stated that he personally thought such activity was individual activity and in no way organized activity.

He denied that he had ever been "shaken down" either as a contractor or as a farmer. He stated that he had never even been contacted under situations which would cause him to suspect that he was marked as a victim in any type of extortion racket.

It is noted that CHIRI treated matters pertaining to the Mafia and personal acquaintances rather lightly. However, toward the end of the interview, he appeared to be very thoughtful.

and sincere in remarks pertaining to his brother. It is noted that he had been told that it was known that his brother attended the meeting at Apalachin, New York. He remarked that he had understood from people who knew his brother and passed through this area and spoke to him, that his brother had a very good business and a good reputation. However, he remarked that he had heard that his brother did employ a lot of ex-convicts. It was the opinion of individuals that he knew that his brother was giving these individuals a chance to make a living. As a result many people thought of him as a real friend and helper. He solemnly remarked that he just could not understand why his brother would get mixed up in something like this meeting when the brother had such a good business operating and had such a good reputation.

It is noted that CHIRI was friendly and pleasant throughout the interview, but was very evasive.

It is noted that in previous reports information has been set forth relative to JOHN DI BELLA, Grande Cheese Company, Fond Du Lac, Wisconsin.

By letter dated July 2, 1958, Milwaukee Office was requested to interview JOHN DI BELLA at Fond Du Lac, Wisconsin, along certain lines.

By letter dated August 18, 1958, the Milwaukee Office furnished the following results of interview of JOHN DI BELLA:

He knows that Subject has a food brokerage office in San Francisco and that he deals in olive oil and other Italian foodstuffs. He stated that up to about six or seven years ago JAMES JOSEPH LANZA sold the product which he manufactures, namely Italian cheese, but that he no longer has done any business with him inasmuch as it appears he obtains his merchandise elsewhere. JOHN DI BELLA did state however that when he visits in San Francisco he will give him a friendly call either by phone or a short personal visit. He stated that the only activities that he knows in which LANZA engaged in are legitimate business activities pertaining to his food brokerage business. Mr. DI BELLA stated that he has the utmost respect for him and has found him to be honest in all business dealings he has had with him and has no derogatory information concerning him.

2. JOHN DI BELLA stated that he is not associated and never has been associated with DI BELLA's Importing Company. He stated he has received no income from this company nor derived any profits from its operation. He did state, however, that when the company was operating, his brother, SALVATORE DI BELLA, did ask him for money, not as a business loan but merely for assistance. He stated that he did help out his brother, SALVATORE, by giving him money and more or less never expected that it be returned. He stated that at this time he did not wish to specify the amount which he gave to his brother as this was a personal matter between him and SALVATORE.

Mr. DI BELLA stated that he never resided in San Jose, California. He stated that he had absolutely no business connections with this importing company which was operated by his brother, SALVATORE, but that this company was selling his cheese which was manufactured in Wisconsin.

Mr. DI BELLA stated that he does not know and is unacquainted with the following individuals:

Mr. DI BELLA stated that PETER TERRANOVA is a former representative of the Grande Cheese Company in the Castro Valley, California, area but that he has not been doing too much work for them in the past several years because Mr. TERRANOVA also represents other Cheese companies from other parts of the United States. Mr. DI BELLA stated that he regards Mr. TERRANOVA as an honest and trustworthy businessman and has never known him to engage in illegal activities.

5. Mr. DI BELLA stated that he knows that SALVATORE and ANGELO MARINO have operated the California Cheese Company in San Jose, California, for the past fourteen or fifteen years. On May 15, 1958, SAs JOHN C. By letter dated July 16, 1958, Phoenix advised that it was determined on July 1, 1958, through the Motor Vehicle Division, State of Arizona, that Arizona license C-58433 was issued to JOSEPH GENOVESE, 2717 Arroyo Chico, Tucson, Arizona, for a 1956 Chevrolet sedan.

On July 11, 1958, it was determined through a check of the Drivers License Bureau, State of Arizona, that GREGORY GENOVESE, 2717 Arroyo Chico, Tucson, Arizona, was born on April 18, 1933; white, male, American; black hair, brown eyes; 5'10"; and 152 pounds.

Phoenix advised that previous investigation conducted by the Phoenix Office had determined that JOE GENOVESE has a son named GREGORY GENOVESE.

As has previously been reported GREGORY GENOVESE, son of JOE GENOVESE, 2717 Arroyo Chico, Tucson, Arizona, attended school in San Francisco during the school year 1957-58.

It is noted that it has previously been reported that Subject's home telephone number has been in contact with a telephone listed to GREGORY GENOVESE, mentioned above, in San Francisco.

In view of the information relative to the descriptions of GREGORY GENOVESE and the unknown individual at Subject's office and the information pertaining to the registration of the car it is concluded that the unknown individual mentioned above as being at the Subject's office was GREGORY GENOVESE, son of JOE GENOVESE.

Phoenix further advised in letter of July 16, 1958, that information relative to JOSEPH GENOVESE, wa. Joe, 2717 Arroyo Chico, Tucson, Arizona, had been ascertained during the course of another investigation in the Phoenix Office. During the course of another investigation it was determined that JOSEPH GENOVESE has his residence at Tucson, Arizona, and operates a cotton farm near Eloy, Arizona. JOE GENOVESE has advised Bureau Agents that he is a third cousin of JOSEPH BARBARA, Apalachin, New York, at whose home a meeting of various hoodlums was held on November 14, 1957. JOE GENOVESE has received telephone calls from BARBARA's home in New York State according to Phoenix letter. GREGORY GENOVESE has no criminal record in Tucson, Arizona.

It has been set forth in previous reports that ROBERT GARIOITO, 740 East Cypress Street, Santa Maria, California, has been identified as being a visitor to subject's office at 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California.

On July 1, 1958, the files of the Lodi Police Department, Lodi, California, were reviewed by SA NATHAN L. WHITE for information concerning ROBERT GARIOITO, but no reference to this individual was located. On the same date, acting Chief of Police PAT. COON, who has been associated with the Lodi Police Department for more than 15 years was unable to recall anyone by this name. In addition other members of the Lodi Police Department, including recently resigned Chief of Police FRED HUNT, were interviewed by SA WHITE, but none could recall anyone by the name of ROBERT GARIOITO being in the Lodi area. It was the opinion of these individuals that ROBERT GARIOITO, if he had been in the Lodi area, must have left that area many years ago.

On July 1, 1958, [redacted] of the Credit Bureau of Lodi, advised SA WHITE that a search of the records of his Bureau failed to locate the name of ROBERT GARIOITO.

By letter dated July 24, 1958, the Pittsburgh Office furnished the following information relative to ROBERT GARIOITO:

[redacted] Identification Officer, Pittsburgh Police Department, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, advised SA [redacted] [redacted] on June 20, 1958, that Detective WILLIAM R. Market as a seller. He further advised that the person who would probably recall GARIOTO despite the fact that it has been at least 25 years since he was on the Pittsburgh scene, is one AL P. RIGHTOR, president and general manager of the United Fruit Auction in the Pittsburgh Produce Market. [redacted] recalled that he was a comparatively young boy when the MONASTERA brothers were killed by what was known then as the Black Hand Society, and he recalled that ROBERT GARIOTO seemed to be very much in charge at that time.

AL P. RIGHTOR, president and general manager, Union Fruit Auction, Auction Building, 21st and Smallman Streets, Pittsburgh, advised SA [redacted] on July 14, 1958, that he remembers ROBERT GARIOTO as the president of the Pittsburgh Fruit Exchange. He advised that he respected him as a businessman, but stayed clear of him as did everyone else in the market because of his Black Hand activities. He stated that there was a constant rumor of war between members of this organization and that shootings in the market approximately 25 years ago were commonplace and were overlooked by the police department. He stated that it was nothing to see a man running down the market streets with others shooting at him and that he remembers the MONASTERA brothers being killed in this fashion. He advised that he did not condone the activities of the Black Hand and as far as he is concerned, this organization and its members have not existed in the produce market for many years. He advised that [redacted] of ROBERT GARIOTO, works for the Burkley Fruit Company, directly across the street from the Auction Building, and is very well liked in the produce market by those with whom he comes in contact. RIGHTOR advised that he has not seen ROBERT GARIOTO for many years and does not know why he left the Pittsburgh vicinity.

[redacted] City Banana Company, 21st Street, Pittsburgh, advised SA [redacted] on July 14, 1958, that he was born and raised in Palermo, Italy, and was extremely disgusted to find out that criminals from that area had come over to the United States and settled in the vicinity of the Pittsburgh Produce Market. He advised that they ran an extortion racket in the market approximately 25 years ago and that all of the employees of the market had to contribute under threat of bodily harm. He stated that most of these hoodlums were connected with the Pittsburgh Fruit Exchange, of which ROBERT GARIOTO was president. He advised that he did not know GARIOTO well at that time, but has known his [redacted] [redacted] for many years, and considers him to be an exemplary individual who has no racket connections to his knowledge. He stated that the only people who could even recall ROBERT GARIOTO and who are presently on the market scene infrequently, are [redacted] and [redacted] who have both retired from the produce business, but who appear at the market to gamble. He stated that [redacted] the Pittsburgh Banana Company, might also know him. He stated, however, that none of these individuals could furnish any more information than he had because of the time element involved and because of the fact that ROBERT GARIOTO has not been on the Pittsburgh scene for more than two decades.

[redacted] Pittsburgh, who is employed by the Burkley Fruit Company at the Pittsburgh Produce Market, was interviewed by SA [redacted] on a pretext basis on July 14, 1958, during which time he advised that [redacted] ROBERT, is a "big man" in the Santa Maria, California vicinity and has completely retired from the produce business. He stated that ROBERT was a buyer who did a great deal of traveling and moved to California because of this and because of health reasons. He advised that his brother seldom visits the East and that he is not a racketeer. He said ROBERT has nothing presently "going for him" in the Pittsburgh area. GARIOTO preferred not to talk about the numerous killings that took place at the Pittsburgh Produce Market many years ago and shrugged these off by simply saying that he was young at the time and did not pay much attention to them.

Information has previously been set forth relative to the probability that subject met NICK LICATA, top hoodlum, Los Angeles at the residence of ANTHONY PERCONTI, San Francisco, California, on March 18, 1958. SF T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA CURTIS P. Subsequently, Omaha was requested to identify occupant of this address.

By letter dated July 15, 1958, Omaha advised as follows:

On July 7, 1958, the Davenport City Directories were examined and they indicated that 2149 Frisco Drive, Davenport, Iowa, is the residence of [redacted] widow of [redacted]. From the information set forth above as received from Omaha, this contact with subject's office appears to be an unusual or odd contact. Therefore, Omaha, by letter dated August 14, 1958, was requested to interview Mrs. SOPHIE J. WITTIG, 2149 Fresno Drive, Davenport, Iowa, to determine the nature of her contact with ANTHONY LANZA and to determine from her any knowledge she has of subject.

SF T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on April 18, 1958, that a letter addressed to "Lanza Brothers", 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California, postmarked April 8, 1958, at Eatontown, New Jersey, and bearing return address of Mrs. MIKE FARELLA, 18 Park Avenue, Eatontown, New Jersey, had been received at subject's office. Subsequently, the Newark Office was requested to identify FARELLA. By letter dated July 23, 1958, the Newark Office advised that on June 25, 1958, [redacted] clerk at the Credit Bureau for Monmouth and Ocean Counties, Asbury Park, New Jersey, advised SA [redacted] after an examination of her records, that there was no information in her files pertaining to anyone named FARELLA.

He advised that both Mr. and Mrs. FARELLA are commercial tailors by trade and that Mr. FARELLA was formerly associated with the Middletown Clothing Fashions, a factory in Middletown New Jersey. He stated that his wife, who is known as "ANGIE", was similarly associated in the "dress line".

He stated that the FARELLAS have never been in any kind of trouble and that to the best of his knowledge, they do not travel and that both are considered "homebodies". He described Mr. FARELLA as approximately 65 years of age, white, Italian extraction, 5'7", about 145 pounds.

On June 25, 1958, a pretext call was made to the home of Mr. and Mrs. FARELLA by SA [redacted] at which time it was determined that the FARELLAS purchase their olives and olive oil from out of state.

The Newark indices contain no reference to Mrs. MIKE FARELLA or Mrs. MIKE FARRELLA.

It is noted that previous information has been set forth in reports relative to subject visiting the orchard of FRANK J. GENOVESE, Cupertino, California. On August 15, 1958, SF T-10, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA [redacted] that FRANK JOSEPH GENOVESE was unknown to him.

that FRANK J. GENOVESE, 100630 Lawrence Road, Cupertino, registered on January 8, 1952, and indicated that he was born in California.

The records of the San Jose Police Department as examined on August 18, 1958, by SA [redacted] reflect that FRANK J. GENOVESE had been issued gun permit #7725 on August 2, 1950, at which time he was residing at Route 2, Box 337, Cupertino, California. This gun permit was for a Woodsman Colt purchased from F. Schilling and Son, 27 Post Street, San Jose. The records indicate that he had been previously issued a gun permit on May 16, 1946, for an S & W Revolver .38 caliber, serial #816815, gun permit #5916. This gun was also purchased from F. Schilling and Son, 27 Post Street, San Jose.

The records of the F. J. Schilling Company, 27 Post Street, San Jose, as examined on August 18, 1958, by SA [redacted] reflect that purchase application #166068 for a Smith and Wesson Revolver, serial #816815, was made out to FRANK J. GENOVESE, Route 3, Box 90. This application described GENOVESE as being 41 years of age, 5'11 $\frac{1}{2}$ ", occupation - salesman.

The records of the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office were checked for an application for the above gun permits, but it was ascertained from [redacted] of the San Jose Police Department that the above permits were issued by the Santa Clara Sheriff's Office and not by the San Jose Police Department. The records of the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office as made available by [redacted] reflect that gun permits were issued to FRANK J. GENOVESE on June 8, 1948, June 24, 1949, and on May 17, 1950. These permits were for the above described weapons and were issued to GENOVESE for "self-protection". The applications for these permits, however, were not in the file. [redacted] advised that they were either missfiled or had been removed from the file.

On August 25, 1958, [redacted] El Camino Real and Dale Avenue, Mountain View, California, advised SA RRELSNIK that he recalled having rented seven acres of apricot orchard approximately ten years ago to "JOE" GENOVESE, who is probably identical with the FRANK JOSEPH GENOVESE mentioned above. He stated that GENOVESE, in addition to farming land, was an olive oil salesman. Mr. DANIELS knew nothing unfavorable concerning GENOVESE.

On March 31, 1958, an unknown Negro driving a 1946 Chevrolet pickup, license [redacted] was observed entering subject's office. The Department of Motor Vehicles, Sacramento, California, advised that this license was issued to [redacted] San Francisco.

On March 21, 1958, an unknown Negro driving a 1957 Ford Ranchero, Nevada license STT 119, contacted subject's office. Apparently same unknown Negro driving same 1957 Ford Ranchero was observed contacting subject's office on April 8, 1958. A photograph was taken of this unknown Negro. Considerable investigation has been conducted to identify this unknown Negro.

On June 23, 1958, [redacted] Universal CIT Credit Corporation, 995 Market Street, San Francisco, California, advised SA [redacted] that instant 1957 Ford Ranchero which previously bore Nevada license STT 119 was sold to [redacted]

[redacted] San Francisco on April 18, 1958. [redacted] advised that he was unable to state where instant Ranchero was on April 8, 1958, and could not identify the photograph of the unknown Negro who contacted subject's office on that date while driving this car. He said that the repossessions which he handled were stored at a garage at 1350 California Street, but that this garage did not employ any Negroes. He also stated that repair work on these cars was done by Johnson's Motors, 1656 California Street, and that they were cleaned and waxed at Joe's Auto Polish, 276 Capp Street.

On June 23, 1958, [redacted] Street, advised SA [redacted] that the photograph of the unknown Negro was unknown to him. [redacted] stated that [redacted] who worked for him on Saturdays cleaning up the garage could possibly be located through the cigar store at Geary and Larkin. He said that [redacted] [redacted] did some polish and wax work for him. [redacted] recalled instant car having been in his garage, but said that he did not do any work on it and, therefore, would not have a work order showing the dates that it was in his possession.

b6

On June 24, 1958, [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that they had not worked on instant car and from observation, it was determined that they were not identical with the unknown Negro.

SF 92-123

[redacted] were all shown the photograph of the unknown Negro and none of them knew this individual.

On June 26, 1958, [redacted] home address [redacted] advised that he picked up instant [redacted] from the garage at 1350 California Street on March 21, 1958, and returned it on March 24, 1958, which was verified by his records. [redacted] stated that he went to the subject's office at 559 Washington Street on March 21, 1958, as he was in the market for some insurance on his personally owned car. He said that LANZA was recommended to him by a mutual friend, [redacted] an accountant, [redacted], as LANZA is [redacted] landlord. [redacted] is not identical with the unknown Negro and did not know the identity of the unknown Negro whose photograph had been taken.

b6

It is noted from above that [redacted] has been observed contacting subject's office in his personally owned car. From above, it is also noted that [redacted] contacted subject's office on March 21, 1958, while driving the 1957 Ford Ranchero bearing Nevada license. From above information furnished by [redacted] relative to his contacts at subject's office, it is apparent that these contacts relate to business. Although the identity of the unknown Negro who contacted subject's office on April 8, 1958, has not been determined, it is obvious that his identity is of no importance in view of the facts set forth above relative to various possessions of the 1957 Ford Ranchero.

IRWIN on August 14, 1958. [redacted] advised that he and his partners purchased the Tropical Bar and Grill in 1950 from MIKE ABATI. He advised that he had only three or four contacts with ABATI prior to purchasing the restaurant. He stated that he was not acquainted with any of the individuals who frequented the restaurant during the time MIKE ABATI operated it. He recalled LANZA, and believed that it was JAMES LANZA, being present at the time the papers for the sale were signed. He stated that LANZA introduced himself and was very pleasant. He recalls LANZA having an office on Washington Street. He stated that LANZA looked over

CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

In report of SA ARTHUR V. HART dated July 8, 1958, at Albany, captioned "Meeting of Hoodlums at Apalachin, New York, November 14, 1957; ANTI-RACKETEERING" on pages 158 and 159, among other things, the following is set forth:

SALVATORE TORNABE, deceased, had notes in his possession on November 14, 1957. These were found when he was interrogated by the law enforcement officers immediately following the meeting at BARBARA's at Apalachin, New York. A review of translation of the foreign words furnished by the FBI Laboratory and further examination of a copy of these notes which was prepared by the Laboratory from a reverse negative submitted reflected that the notes are apparently penciled notations made for TORNABE's own assistance. They were made on two sheets of paper apparently torn from the same pad. It is not known when they were made. Their content indicates that they were prepared by TORNABE shortly before the meeting of November 14, 1957.

The data reflected on the photo copies was set forth. Sheet one, item one read as follows:

"In Endicott speak to J. LANZA." It would appear from this reference to J. LANZA that JAMES LANZA from San Francisco did actually attend the meeting or at least it was anticipated that he attend the meeting.

By letter dated July 8, 1958, Albany advised that SF T-4 on June 19, 1958, after viewing a photograph of subject, stated that he believed he saw subject at the meeting at JOSEPH BARBARA's house at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957. Albany further advised that the photograph of subject was shown to the following individuals with negative results:

On July 30, 1958, SF T-8, who has furnished insufficient information in the past to judge his reliability, advised SA CURTIS P. IRWIN that he did not know subject by name. Informant, after viewing a photograph of subject, advised that the photograph was not familiar to him. It is noted that informant is a Sicilian, was born in San Francisco, and has lived practically all of his life in the Italian Section of San Francisco. Informant related that he had no information pertaining to subject.

LEGITIMATE ENTERPRISES

On September 2, 1958, SF T-1, mentioned above, advised SA CURTIS P. IRWIN that federal income tax investigation of subject failed to indicate any irregularities on the part of the subject in regard to his federal income tax.

SF T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA CURTIS P. IRWIN on April 23, 1958, that letter addressed to Mrs. JOSEPHINE LANZA, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California, postmarked April 1, 1958, at Chicago, Illinois, from First National Bank, Chicago, Illinois, had been received at subject's office. By letter dated June 16, 1958, Chicago was requested to determine if subject or any member of his family had any record with this bank.

By letter dated July 16, 1958, Chicago advised that on June 26, and 27, 1958, SF T-13, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he had checked the names of JAMES JOSEPH LANZA, JOSEPHINE LANZA, ANTHONY LANZA, TONINA LANZA, and ROSE LANZA against the commercial, savings, safety deposit box, and loan accounts of the First National Bank of Chicago without locating any record of any of the individuals.

SF T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA CURTIS P. IRWIN on April 23, 1958, that letter addressed to Lanza Brothers, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California, from Red Salmon Company, P.O. Box 87, Seattle, Washington, postmarked March 26, 1958, and April 17, 1958, had been received at subject's office. Subsequently, Seattle was requested to identify operators of this company.

By letter dated June 16, 1958, Detroit was requested to determine if subject or any member of his family had any record with this bank.

By letter dated July 16, 1958, Detroit advised that SF T-3, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on July 2, 1958, that a search of the records of the Detroit Bank and Trust Company for the names of subject, JOSEPHINE LANZA, ANTHONY LANZA, TONINA LANZA, and ROSE LANZA failed to locate any record with that bank.

From the above information relative to correspondence from the banks in Detroit, Michigan, and Chicago, Illinois, it appears that this correspondence relates to stocks held by subject and members of his family. This would account for the fact that the banks have no record of any financial transactions with subject or members of his family.

Reurlet 10/3/58, advising of interview of subject during course of investigation under Top Hoodlum Program.

There is enclosed for your information a photographic copy of a portion of a note found on the person of Joseph Tornabe after his arrest by the New York State Police at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957. Tornabe is now deceased, and no suitable interpretation of all of the items on the notes found in his possession has been secured. It is noted, however, in the enclosure that the first item apparently reads "In Endicott parlare J. Lanza." Since Lanza has denied visiting Endicott, New York, during his trip to the east during November, 1957, and has denied participating in the Apalachin meeting, you may wish to consider the possibility of confronting him at some later date with the photograph of Tornabe's note for the purpose of requesting his comments and explanations.

Re San Francisco letter to Bureau dated 10/3/58 captioned "Meeting of Hoodlums, Apalachin, New York, 11/14/57. ANTI-RACKETEERING".

Relet set forth information relative to subject's possible attendance at the meeting of hoodlums at Apalachin, New York on 11/14/57 as obtained from subject on 9/30/58 when interviewed at San Francisco, California by SA's [redacted] and CURTIS P. IRWIN, Jr.

Other than the information which was set forth in relet, subject was questioned about numerous individuals whom it was believed he knew. Subject did admit knowing individuals whom he believed agents could prove he knew. However, he did not furnish any information about them and claimed that he knew nothing about their activities. In respect to learning of any illegal activities on the part of the subject or any of his known associates, the interview was unproductive. Subject was nervous during the interview, was ill at ease, and was evasive. It is noted that subject tried to impress agents with his desire to cooperate with law enforcement agencies and to impress them with the fact that he and his family had been in business in San Francisco for 40 years without any difficulties with law enforcement officers.

Details of the interview will be set forth in the next report.

Re: Rep SA Curtis P. Irwin, Jr., dated 9/18/58.

Review of rerep reveals that during the course of an interview with J. C. Chiri, 193 South Bernardo Avenue, Mountain View, California, the interviewing Agents injected the subject of the Mafia. When Chiri stated he personally did not believe such an organization existed, the Agents reportedly stated "that from evidence and information known to Agents, there was such an association."

The advisability of the Agents' making such statement to Chiri is questionable. You are, therefore, instructed to secure explanations from the responsible Agents involved and submit them to the Bureau together with your recommendations regarding possible administrative action.

SUBJECT: JAMES JOSEPH LANZA
ANTI-RACKETEERING

Rebulet dated 10/3/58.

Forwarded herewith is a memorandum submitted by SA CURTIS P. IRWIN, JR., the agent who conducted the interview of J. C. CHIRI on 7/21/58 and prepared the report setting forth the results of this interview.

From a review of the above, it is noted that the questionable sentence in SA IRWIN's report is very awkwardly worded and does not convey the exact meaning intended by him. This matter should have been explained more fully in his report.

An appropriate error has been scored against SA IRWIN and it is recommended that no further administrative action be taken.

SUMMARY OF FACTS:

In San Francisco report of SA Curtis P. Irwin dated September 18, 1958, captioned "James Joseph Lanza--Anti-Racketeering" (THF), an interview with J. C. Chiri, 193 South Bernardo Avenue, Mountainview, California, on July 21, 1958, was set forth. During the course of this interview, the interviewing Agents apparently brought up the subject of the Mafia. When Chiri stated he personally did not believe there was such an organization, it was reported that the Agents stated, "from evidence and information known to Agents, there was such an association." Since this appeared to be an unwarranted disclosure of Bureau matters, the San Francisco Office was instructed in Bulet of 10/3/58 to submit explanations of the Agents who took part in the interview and the recommendations of the SAC relative to possible administrative action. By letter of 10/8/58, SAC, San Francisco, advised that SA Irwin was on annual leave out of the division until 10/27/58.

By letter of 10/28/58, the SAC forwards a memorandum submitted by SA Curtis P. Irwin, Jr., in which he denies having told Chiri that the Mafia exists. The Agent explains that the inference to this effect, however, could be logically drawn from the manner in which the interview was reported. He contends that what he intended to convey in the report was that from evidence such as gang killings, business arrangements, etc., and information known to Agents as well as known to the public from all types of news sources, there appeared to be some type of organization, association, tie-in, or working agreement among a segment of the Sicilian element regardless of what name it might be called.

The SAC comments that since this misunderstanding resulted from the awkward manner in which the interview was reported, he feels that it should be scored as an error and that no additional administrative action should be taken against the Agent.

RECOMMENDATION OF INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION:

Since questioned statement appears to have been a matter of awkward reporting rather than an unwarranted disclosure of Bureau matters, as first feared, and since no dissemination has been made of the report, the action of SAC, San Francisco, in scoring error against SA Irwin appears justified and no further administrative action is recommended.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : SAC, San Francisco (92-123)

DATE: 10/28/58

FROM : CURTIS P. IRWIN, JR., SA

SUBJECT: JAMES JOSEPH LANZA
ANTI-RACKETEERING

Re Bureau letter to San Francisco dated 10/3/58 relative to statements made to J. C. CHIRI, 193 S. Bernardo Avenue, Mt. View, California, during the interview of CHIRI.

The statement in question is: "however, when Agents stated that from evidence and information known to Agents, there was such an association..." It is apparent that the inference can be drawn that this statement refers directly to the "Mafia". In view of this possible interpretation of the statement as reported, in retrospect, statement should have been more fully explained when reported.

Actually, the statement as made to CHIRI was to the effect that from evidence, such as gang killings, business arrangements, etc. and information known to Agents as well as known to the public from all types of news sources, there appeared to be some type of organization, association, tie-in, or working agreement among a segment of the Sicilian element regardless of what name it might be called. The first sentence in the paragraph in which the questioned sentence is recorded is: "He was questioned relative to the organization or association which some call 'Mafia'". In reporting as recorded I believed that the questioned statement without complete elaboration would be interpreted as relating to an "organization or association" which some call "Mafia".

The statement was made to CHIRI to evoke a clear-cut response from him. I did not state in any manner or infer to CHIRI that from evidence and information known to Agents there was a Mafia.

In the future every effort will be made to eliminate any such statements subject to different interpretations in reports.

INTERVIEW OF SUBJECT

On September 30, 1958, Subject was interviewed by SAS [REDACTED] and CURTIS P. IRWIN, Jr. at Subject's place of business, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California. Subject advised that his brother - in - law, STEPHEN NASO, died in Pennsylvania in September, 1957. STEPHEN NASO was married to his (Subject's) wife's sister. Subject related that the funeral was in the Bronx, New York, in September, 1957. He attended this funeral. At the funeral he met RUSSEL ~~BUFALINO~~ <sup>104</sup>. He related that he did not know BUFALINO prior to this occasion. During their talk at the funeral, BUFALINO suggested to him that if he (Subject) was ever in the area of Scranton, Pennsylvania, to stop in to see him (BUFALINO).

Subject related that in November, 1957, he planned to go to New York City to attend to affairs and help settle the estate of STEPHEN NASO. In talking to JOSEPH CERRITO, Los Gatos, California, he learned that CERRITO was planning to go to New York City on automobile business. As a result of their conversation, they planned to make the trip to New York City together. He admitted that he and CERRITO traveled by airplane together to New York City in the first part of November, 1957. He stated that they stayed at the Hotel New Yorker while in New York City, and that they shared a room together at this hotel in order to economize on expenses and also to have companionship.

While attending to affairs relating to the estate of STEPHEN NASO, he was in the Scranton, Pennsylvania, area. He stated that STEPHEN NASO did not reside in Scranton, Pennsylvania, but resided in Reading, Pennsylvania. He further related that NASO had a pants factory, which was located in Boyertown, Pennsylvania. Therefore, he did not have any actual business in connection with the estate in Scranton, Pennsylvania. However, he related that when he found himself in Scranton, he stopped to see BUFALINO. He related that he stopped to see BUFALINO because of his prior conversation with BUFALINO at the funeral of STEPHEN NASO.

He related that it was late in the day so he stayed overnight at the Hotel Casey. He related that he did not have a reservation. He further related that he did not sign the registration card and did not know who actually did sign the card. He stated that he merely got a room at the hotel. He refused to answer any questions as to whether anyone was actually with him at the Hotel Casey. He refused to answer questions as to how he traveled from New York City to Scranton. It is noted that during the questioning relating to Scranton and his visit there, Subject was nervous and ill at ease.

Subject admitted knowing J.C. CHIRI, Sunnyvale, California, but denied knowing his brother, SALVATORE CHIRI, Fort Lee, New Jersey. It is noted that SALVATORE CHIRI, Fort Lee, New Jersey, attended the meeting of hoodlums at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957. Subject admitted knowing ~~FRANK DESIMONE~~, Attorney, Los Angeles, California. He advised that FRANK DESIMONE is a cousin of ANTHONY LANZA's wife. It is noted that this would make FRANK DESIMONE a cousin of TONINA LANZA, wife of ANTHONY LANZA, brother of Subject.

Subject advised that LEON DESIMONE, Sonoma County, California, is a brother of TONINA LANZA, wife of ANTHONY LANZA. He related that the LEON DESIMONE in Sonoma County, California, is the same LEON DESIMONE who was one of the owners with him and ANTHONY LANZA of the Lucca Olive Oil Company in Lindsay, California, in the early 1940's.

Subject admitted knowing [redacted] of Leghorn Trading Company, New York City. He denied that he had ever had any joint financial venture with [redacted]. Subject admitted that he resided and worked in Lindsay, California, in connection with the operation of the Lucca Olive Oil Company, from about 1940 to 1945.

SF 92-123

CPI:PCB

~~NICK LICATA~~ of Los Angeles, and FRANK LANZA were partners in this operation for several years. Subject was a little hazy as to exactly when this vineyard or ranch was sold. However, he finally stated that it was sold prior to his father's death. He related that his father died in 1937 at San Francisco.

He further stated that his father and his mother lived on the ranch most of the time during the time the father owned the ranch. He related that he and his brother, ANTHONY LANZA, remained in San Francisco and operated the business in San Francisco during this time. He further explained in regard to his relationship with NICK LICATA that LICATA, in view of the above mentioned partnership with his father, was an old friend of the family. He advised that he knew ANTHONY LIMA, but had not seen him for a long time. He denied knowing anything about LIMA's present activities. He related that when he knew LIMA, his contact with LIMA was always in regard to olive oil business. He advised that he had not seen or heard anything about SAM LIMA for ten or 15 years.

He admitted knowing [redacted] formerly of San Jose, California. He was questioned as to whether [redacted] ever was employed by LANZA Bros. He denied that [redacted] had ever been a salesman for the firm. He advised that on one occasion he did recall selling [redacted] some olive oil, but he required [redacted] to pay in cash for the olive oil prior to delivering the olive oil to [redacted]. He advised that he would not have [redacted] kind working for him. However, he would not elaborate on this statement or explain actually what he meant when he said "his kind."

b6

While talking about salesmen for his company, Subject related that they had always done most of their selling to large concerns and to stores.

Subject admitted knowing ~~FRANK~~ SCAPPATURA. He first stated that he did not know SCAPPATURA very well. However, he was informed that he knew SCAPPATURA sufficiently well to testify under oath to SCAPPATURA's good character. He related that he did not recall such a testimony. He was informed that this was a matter of record. Then Subject recalled testifying as to SCAPPATURA's good character when SCAPPATURA was attempting to obtain a license for processing olive oil in about 1950.

He related that he testified for SCAPPATURA, but indicated that it was primarily because of MIKE ABATI. He advised that MIKE ABATI was also interested in the olive oil company with SCAPPATURA at the time. Since SCAPPATURA was having trouble obtaining his license, Subject advised that he testified as to his good character. He related that he had known SCAPPATURA since about 1945. He advised that his contacts with SCAPPATURA had been only in the business field. He further stated that he had found

CPI:PCB

SCAPPATURA to be honest and straightforward in all of their business dealings. He related that he knew of a lot more undesirable people in his opinion who had licenses to operate olive oil plants and could see no reason why SCAPPATURA should be denied such a license. He advised that he had always found MIKE ABATI to be a honest, hard-working man.

He advised that he had known JOSEPH CERRITO, Los Gatos, California, for probably six or seven years. He advised that he had become acquainted with CERRITO through purchasing a used car from him. In regard to CERRITO he stated he knew no activities on the part of CERRITO other than the automobile business.

He admitted knowing FRANK GRUTTADAURIA. He stated that he had not seen GRUTTADAURIA in a long time and knew nothing about his activities. He thought GRUTTADAURIA was in Los Angeles, California, at the present time. He also admitted knowing STEVE ZOCCOLI. He again stated that he knew nothing about ZOCCOLI's activities. He advised when questioned as to his association with ZOCCOLI that they had his car insured at one time. Subject was questioned as to his information or opinion regarding the existence of an association which some called "Mafia" among a certain Sicilian element. Subject laughed at the question and remarked that he knew nothing about any such organization or association.

He was questioned as to his opinion or knowledge of the purpose of the meeting of individuals at Apalachin, New York on November 14, 1957 at the home of JOSEPH BARBARA. He remarked that he had no information pertaining to such a meeting or gathering. He further stated that he had no opinion as to its purpose. He advised that he would have no way of knowing or learning what the purpose of such a gathering might have been as he did not desire to associate or be connected with in any manner any element which might be engaged in any illegal or criminal activities.

During the course of the interview, Subject made frequent remarks relating to his family's good name and reputation in the San Francisco area. He frequently remarked that "they" had been in business in San Francisco for 40 years and during that time had always been honest, hard-working individuals who had good reputations. He remarked that during the course of their business activities naturally they might have been in contact with some undesirable individuals. He said that whenever you are dealing with the public in business, you cannot inquire about the individual's background. He related that whenever individuals desired merchandise and had the money he sold them merchandise.

SF 92-123
CPI:PCB

related that he knew Subject's father, FRANK LANZA, when FRANK LANZA first came to the Escondido, California, area from New York. (It is noted that according to FRANK LANZA's naturalization petition he stated he came to California from New York City in 1919.)

MORICI related that in the Escondido, California, area FRANK LANZA owned and operated a large vineyard. MORICI related that FRANK LANZA had accumulated considerable wealth prior to coming to California. He stated FRANK LANZA had been a successful businessman in the export and import business in New York City with his brother-in-law, MARIO PRISINZANO. He related that FRANK LANZA and MARIO PRISINZANO operated under the firm name of Prisinzano, Lanza Wholesale Company in New York City. They engaged in the exporting and importing of food stuffs in this wholesale company. He related that he doubted very much if FRANK LANZA increased his wealth while operating in California. He described FRANK LANZA as being a very aggressive ambitious businessman who was continually endeavoring to make money.

He stated that it was his belief that FRANK LANZA lost considerable money in the stock market crash of 1929. He related that in California, FRANK LANZA would engage in any legitimate venture which he thought would make money. FRANK LANZA was very active in the purchase of grapes and other fruits in the California area and shipping such grapes and fruits to the East.

MORICI related that [redacted] either sold or quit this business in the Los Angeles area and moved to Northern California.

On August 22, 1958, San Francisco T-5, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised SA [redacted] that Easton, Pennsylvania, telephone number 2-5105 was listed to IGNATZIO CANGELOSI, 5201 William Penn Highway, Easton, Pennsylvania. SF T-5 advised that records available to SF T-5 reflected that in 1946 CANGELOSI was a foreman for the Northampton Pants Company.

San Francisco T-6, who has furnished reliable information in the past, on October 9, 1958 advised SA C. HEBER SMITH that Mr. and Mrs. IGNATZIO CANGELOSI reside at 5201 William Penn Highway, Easton, Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. CANGELOSI have [redacted] SF T-6 thought [redacted] was a senior at college. He was not sure but thought [redacted] attended Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, New York. [redacted] is approximately in the seventh grade.

b6
b7C

SF T-6 informed that [redacted] was visiting in California during the summer of 1958, but did not know with whom [redacted] was visiting.

According to SF T-6, Mrs. IGNATZIO CANGELOSI's maiden name was CAROLYN NASO.

SF 92-123
CPI:PCB

SF T-6 stated that he did not know anyone by the name of DESIMONE or LANZA. SF T-6 added that he did not know if CANGELOSI had relatives in Italy or corresponded with anyone in Italy. He had no knowledge of CANGELOSI having ever visited Italy.

SF T-6 reported STEPHEN NASO was the former owner of the Northampton Pants Company. Under NASO, CANGELOSI and his brother, CHARLES CANGELOSI, were employed in a supervisory capacity. In 1946, IGNAZIO CANGELOSI and CHARLES CANGELOSI took over the Northampton Pants Company as partners. STEPHEN NASO moved to Reading, Pennsylvania. SF T-6 thought that CAROLYN NASO CANGELOSI and STEPHEN NASO were related. He thought they were cousins and that STEPHEN NASO married CAROLYN NASO's sister, who was his cousin.

By communication dated October 29, 1958, the Philadelphia Office advised that the following information was obtained on October 15, 1958 from the records of the Easton Credit Bureau, Easton, Pennsylvania:

The Northampton Pants Company, 222 East St. Joseph Street, Easton, Pennsylvania, was started about 1923 by STEPHEN NASO. He later took in partners. The business incorporated in 1930 for $20,000.00. In 1936, FRANK GOODSTEIN was principal in this business with STEPHEN NASO.

In April, 1946, the name of Northampton Pants Company was listed as fictitious in the Northampton County Courthouse with the following owners:

VINCENT JAMES NASO

IGNAZIO CANGELOSI and CHARLES CANGELOSI, both of

ANTHONY RIELA

In May, 1946, this partnership was succeeded by a corporation known by the same name. The officers were:

President - IGANZIO CANGELOSI

Vice President - ANTHONY RIELA

Treasurer - VINCENT J. NASO

Secretary - CHARLES CANGELOSI

It is to be further noted that on January 21, 1952, RIELA and the two CANGELOSI brothers filed registration for the fictitious name "Jo-An Dress Company", 222 East St. Joseph Street, Easton, Pennsylvania. This business was engaged in the manufacturing of dresses. RIELA's address was listed as 373 Lincoln Avenue, Belleville, New Jersey.

Philadelphia advised that the ANTHONY RIELA, mentioned above as being connected with the Northampton Pants Company, was a top hoodlum of the Newark Office. RIELA attended the meeting of hoodlums at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957.

Easton Credit Bureau records reflect that IGNAZIO CANGELOSI came to Easton, Pennsylvania, from New York City. His wife was listed as CAROLINE

SF 92-123
CPI:PCB

CANGELOSI, maiden name NASO, and also known as Mrs. LEE CANGELOSI. IGNAZIO CANGELOSI was born at New York City on September 5, 1904.

It is noted that previous information has been developed that STEPHEN NASO, mentioned above, married his cousin, EMILY NASO. It is further noted that EMILY NASO has a brother, VINCENT J. NASO, who was associated with STEPHEN NASO in pants manufacturing companies. VINCENT J. NASO, at one time, was reported connected with STEPHEN NASO in the operation of the Northampton Pants Company. VINCENT J. NASO, at the present time, resides in Reading, Pennsylvania. It is noted that VINCENT J. NASO of Reading, Pennsylvania, is a brother of Subject's wife.

It is further noted that Subject's wife has a sister residing in Easton, Pennsylvania.

From the above information it is concluded that Subject's wife is the sister of Mrs. IGNAZIO CANGELOSI, mentioned above. It is noted also above that in May, 1946, among the listed officers of the Northampton Pants Company was "Treasurer - VINCENT J. NASO". It is unknown whether this individual, who is listed as treasurer in May, 1946, is identical to VINCENT J. NASO, brother of Subject's wife, and who is at the present time residing in Reading, Pennsylvania, but it appears that he is identical.

San Francisco T-3, who has furnished insufficient information in the past to judge his reliability, was interviewed on September 10, 1958 and September 16, 1958 by SA WINSTON B. GUNNELS. SF T-3 had previously furnished information relative to the association of NICHOLAS SCHIRO and Mr. LANZA, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California. SF T-3 advised that

CPI:PCB

NICHOLAS SCHIRO died April 29, 1957 in Comporeale, Sicily. SF T-3 advised that he could furnish no other information, other than that which he had previously furnished, relative to the association of FRANK LANZA, San Francisco, and NICHOLAS SCHIRO. He related that his information indicated that there was a close personal friendship existing between the two of them in the early 1930's.

SF T-3 related that he has no current information concerning the LANZA family in San Francisco, but he is of the definite opinion that the LANZAs represent a powerful element in the "Mafia" in the West Coast.

[redacted] advised that she had worked at the Coronet Olive Oil Company for SCAPPATURA and ABATTI, and continued to work for IRVING (mentioned in previous reports as HENRY IRVING, owner of the Oro Olive Oil Company, successor to Coronet Olive Oil Company). She stated that this employment was over a period of about four years. She was employed as bookkeeper. She related that ABATTI was very friendly with JAMES LANZA and that numerous phone calls were made between them. In regard to the telephone calls she stated that after the initial reading, all conversations were in Italian. As a result, she had no information relative to the conversations between JAMES LANZA and ABATTI.

ABATTI was interviewed at his office at the Oro Olive Oil Company, on July 31, 1958, by SA [redacted] ABATTI admitted being friendly with the Subject.

[redacted] Oro Olive Oil Company, was interviewed on July 30, 1958, BY SA [redacted] Among the things MULLER related was that in his opinion, JAMES LANZA was probably ABATTI's closest friend, as ABATTI seemed to be guided by LANZA insofar as the operation of the plant was concerned.

[redacted] a small olive oil plant. Orland, California, was interviewed on July 30, 1958, by SA [redacted] [redacted] in regard to another matter. On this occasion, [redacted] along with other things, advised that ABATTI was a good friend of ANTHONY and JAMES LANZA, in San Francisco. [redacted] related that he had heard that the father of ANTHONY and JAMES LANZA, and SAM LIMA of Oroville, were leaders of the "Mafia" years ago. On October 14, 1958, SAs ROBERT L. HAMILTON and FRANK R. WARNER interviewed SALVATORE RICOTTA, was., FBI Number 240875, who resides at the present time at 627 London Street, San Francisco, California. RICOTTA has a criminal record which includes serving time for such offenses as counterfeiting. RICOTTA, among other things, readily admitted that he had led a rather rough life in the past, but that he was now an old man and desired only to live quietly in strict conformity of the law. Among other things, RICOTTA was questioned relative to his knowledge of the Subject. RICOTTA stated that he had known the Subject casually for a number of years. He further stated that for several years up until about 1952, the LANZA brothers wrote his automobile insurance. He stated that to the best of his knowledge, JAMES and TONY LANZA have a flourishing insurance business and are not involved in any illegal activities. He pointed out that the LANZA brothers were "well fixed" financially, having been left a considerable amount of money by their father.

On September 30, 1958, SAs JOSEPH T. DALY and FRANK R. WARNER interviewed [redacted] at his home, [redacted] Stockton, California. [redacted] was interviewed regarding other matters. However, during the course of the interview, he furnished the following information which might relate to the Subject. [redacted] was being interviewed relative to activities of ANTHONY LIMA, top hoodlum - local, San Francisco Office.

[redacted] advised that in May, 1951, ANTHONY LIMA bought grapes from various farmers in the Lodi, California area, and sold them to the Italian Swiss Colony Winery, for whom [redacted] was processing grapes. LIMA reportedly made an agreement with SAM SAN FELIPO to purchase SAN FELIPO's grapes. LIMA took the grapes, to the Farmington Winery operated by [redacted], where he colluded with ANDREA GUSMANO, the winery weight master, to increase the tonage on the weight slips.

b7C

Sometime during the season, SAN FELIPE accused [redacted] of not paying the proper amount for the grapes. [redacted] consulted with his weight master, GUSMANO, who said that everything was alright. However, an argument ensued on one occasion wherein SAN FELIPE indicated that he was going to call the State Department of Agriculture in connection with the discrepancies of the weights. A short time later, CELLINI and GUSMANO met SAN FELIPE at SAN FELIPE's ranch in Waterford, California, where additional discussion was had concerning the weight slips. SAN FELIPE again stated that he was going to call the Department of Agriculture. [redacted] related that this irritated him and he said that he would call the Department of Agriculture, whereupon he called the Department of Agriculture and having made connections, handed the telephone to SAN FELIPE and told SAN FELIPE to make an appointment with the weight inspector. SAN FELIPE made the appointment for the following Monday.

CPI/lmg
SF 92-123

b6

[redacted] related that after the appointment was made, SAN FELIPE and GUSMANO decided among themselves that they should call another individual. They placed a call to a Mr. LANZA in Oakland or San Francisco. When he heard that they were calling a Mr. LANZA he asked them why they were calling Mr. LANZA, inasmuch as he knew a Mr. LANZA personally of the Tolano Winery and if it was necessary to discuss anything with that Mr. LANZA, he could do it personally. He was informed that the Mr. LANZA they were calling had nothing to do with the Tolano Winery. He gathered that the LANZA they were calling was supposed to be in the furniture business. He was told by both GUSMANO and SAN FELIPE that the individual they were calling was an individual who "straightened matters out." [redacted] stated that he gathered the impression that the Mr. LANZA in the Bay Area, whom they were calling, was a clearing house for Sicilians.

[redacted] related that they were unable to contact this Mr. LANZA until late in the evening. The discussion over the telephone was in Sicilian, which Mr. CELLINI claims, if spoken slowly enough, he could understand. He claimed that the drift of the conversation which he heard on SAN FELIPE and GUSMANO's end of the line, was that SAN FELIPE should not have called the State Department of Agriculture. He further gained the impression that LANZA indicated over the phone that the matter could have been settled without calling in the weight inspector.

b6
b7C

[redacted] related that both GUSMANO and SAN FELIPE are now deceased. He further related that it appeared to him that after SAN FELIPE had made the appointment with the weight inspector, he (SAN FELIPE), had better report the matter to LANZA. [redacted] advised that he did not know the LANZA who was contacted by SAN FELIPE and GUSMANO. Furthermore, he never heard a first name mentioned that he recalls. [redacted] further related that he knew nothing else relative to this LANZA with whom the above individual spoke over the phone. [redacted] could offer no other information which would assist in identifying the individual whom he recalled being named LANZA, with whom GUSMANO and SAN FELIPE conversed.

CPI/lmg
SF 92-123

b6

Subject is not known to have ever been engaged in the furniture business.

By communication dated September 8, 1958, the Omaha Office advised that on September 2, 1958, Mrs. SOPHIE J. WITTIG, 2149 Frisco Drive, who is employed as a clerk in the Scott County Auditor's Office, Davenport, Iowa, was interviewed. She advised SA ARNOLD J. KUTA that she has lived in Davenport, Iowa for about the past three years, and [redacted] the former [redacted] has lived with her in Davenport, Iowa.

Mrs. WITTIG said [redacted] lived in San Francisco, California, for many years, and she, Mrs. WITTIG, met the LANZA family in Burlingame, California, in about 1922. She said she had never since seen the LANZAS, but understood from [redacted] that the MILANI family and the LANZAS were close friends.

b6
b7C

Mrs. WITTIG said her sister owned a house at 575 19th Avenue, San Francisco, California, and ANTHONY LANZA, Realtor, sold that house for [redacted] about a year ago. She said the house was sold on contract and ANTHONY LANZA, who handled the transaction, sends [redacted] monthly checks. Mrs. WITTIG said that to her knowledge the only contact her sister has had with the LANZAS in the past year was through correspondence centering around the sale of the house.

SF T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, has previously advised SA IRWIN that an air mail letter addressed to Mr. LANZA Brothers, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California, postmarked March 27, 1958, at North Olmstead, Ohio, bearing return address of [redacted] North Olmstead, Ohio, was received at Subject's place of business. SF T-8, who has furnished insufficient information in the past to judge his reliability, was interviewed on September 11, 1958, by SAs [redacted] and CURTIS P. IRWIN, JR. SF T-8 advised that he was acquainted with individuals connected with the Old Poodle Dog Restaurant on Polk Street, San Francisco, when the restaurant was started. He related that he was around the restaurant frequently for five or six months after it started. This would place him around the restaurant during the latter part of 1945 and the first part of 1946. SF T-8 related that after the first part of 1946, he was never around the Old Poodle Dog Restaurant. It is noted that the Old Poodle Dog Restaurant was a gathering spot for individuals suspected of being involved in the gangland murder of NICK DE JOHN in May, 1947, in San Francisco.

SF T-8 advised that he ceased frequenting the restaurant because he did not like [redacted] associates who were frequenting the place. When questioned as to what he meant by this, all he would say was that he felt that these individuals were "too rough."

b6
b7C

SF T-8 advised that many Sicilians whom he considered undesirable gathered at the restaurant. Among those he named as being individuals who frequented the place was JAMES LANZA. He advised that JAMES LANZA knew all of the individuals who gathered at the restaurant who were of Sicilian origin. He related that he observed LANZA with PHIL MAITA on several occasions and knew that LANZA and PHIL MAITA were close friends. He related that he had heard that MAITA and LANZA's father were very good friends. He further stated that he had heard that at one time PHIL MAITA was very powerful among the Italians, particularly the Sicilians in San Francisco. T-8 related that he had seen PHIL MAITA and Subject eating together in a restaurant approximately two years ago, and gathered that they were still very close friends. T-8 also advised that he had observed Subject with MIKE ABATI and knew that MIKE ABATI was a close associate of Subject. He further stated that he knew VITO BRUNO, who at one time was associated with MIKE ABATI in the operation of the Tropical Grill on Drum Street in San Francisco. He related that VITO BRUNO was friendly with Subject. SF T-8 advised that he knew TONY LIMA, top hoodlum - local, San Francisco Office. He advised that the Subject was observed at the Poodle Dog Restaurant, frequently associating with TONY LIMA. He also had observed SEBASTIANO NANI at the Poodle Dog Restaurant and had observed Subject being friendly with NANI. It is noted that NANI has been deported from the United States.

SF T-8 related that JIMMY LANZA was usually addressed as Mr. LANZA or Mr. JIMMY, by many of the Sicilians who gathered at the restaurant during the time he was familiar with clientele of the restaurant. He related that this indicated to him that LANZA demanded respect and probably was more influential than many of the others.

CPI/lmg
SF 92-123

SF T-8 furnished other information pertaining to individuals, but such information is not pertinent to this investigation at this time.

SF T-8 was asked whether he believed or had any opinion or information relative to the existence of such an organization or association which some called, "The Mafia." His answer was, "Certainly, any Italian would tell you that. It exists in the old country and it is even stronger in this country. The Sicilians are very clanish and the bad element operate among their own people." It is noted that SF T-8 is Italian, but not Sicilian.

At the conclusion of the interview, SF T-8 volunteered information that he felt that JAMES LANZA was the leader of the Sicilian element in San Francisco. He based this opinion upon his observation of LANZA among the Sicilians which frequented the Poodle Dog Restaurant during that period which he was acquainted with the restaurant's operation.

It is noted that the Subject was interviewed in the morning of September 30, 1958, by Bureau Agents. On the night of September 30, 1958, SF T-7, who has furnished reliable information in the past, observed Subject leave his residence in Burlingame, California, alone in his automobile about 8:55 P.M., and drive to the residence of DAN MARINI, 501 Aragon Boulevard, San Mateo, California, arriving there about 9:10 P.M. Subject entered the residence of DAN MARINI. Subject and an individual believed to be DAN MARINI, were observed leaving the MARINI residence about 11:25 P.M. Subject and this individual, who was believed to be MARINI, took a slow walk together, engaging in conversation around the entire block. Upon returning to the entrance to MARINI's residence, the two individuals proceeded to Subject's car. The other individual stood next to the car and conversed briefly with him. Then the Subject alone in his car departed about 11:40 P.M. The other individual entered a car registered to MARINI and put this car in MARINI's garage. Subject was observed by SF T-7 to proceed from MARINI's residence directly to his own Burlingame home, where he arrived at about twelve midnight.

It is noted that DAN MARINI, mentioned above, has been described previously as a close associate of Subject. It is further noted that MARINI is engaged in the laundry business in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Will check records of police department for a criminal record of FRANCESCO LANZA, who resided in New York City from 1904 to about 1919 and owned and operated, with his brother-in-law MARIO PRISINZANO, the Prisinzano, Lanza Wholesale Company, which dealt in export and import of food stuffs. FRANCESCO LANZA, father of Subject, was born 10/8/1872 at Palermo, Italy.

If the New York Office has any sources such as Dun and Bradstreet or City, State or Federal Regulatory Agencies, which might still have a record or any information pertaining to the Prisinzano, Lanza Wholesale Company, locate and review the records to determine who might have been connected with this company and if any records indicate any illegal activity on the part of the company. It is noted that JOHN DI BELLA, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and others knew FRANCESCO LANZA in New York City and FRANCESCO LANZA reportedly accumulated a great deal of wealth in New York City. Therefore, he might have been a known figure in rackets in that area during that period. His connections might be sources of connections of Subject at the present time. It is further noted FRANCESCO LANZA, father of Subject, reportedly moved to California from New York City in 1919.

PHILADELPHIA OFFICE

AT READING, PENNSYLVANIA

- 1) STEPHEN NASO died 9/17/57 at Reading, Pennsylvania. His address at time of death was 1307 East Wyomissing Blvd., Wyomissing Park, Reading. His widow is EMILY NASO. Subject, as noted in details of report, claimed that he went to New York City in the first part of November, 1957 to assist in settling the estate of STEPHEN NASO. Philadelphia is requested, at Reading, to examine probate records for the estate of STEPHEN NASO mentioned above, to determine if Subject's name appears in any manner in the probate proceedings of the estate of STEPHEN NASO. From examination of the probate records, obtain the name of the executor of the estate of STEPHEN NASO.
- 2) Will, after the name of the executor of the estate of STEPHEN NASO has been obtained, if deemed advisable by your office at the present time, interview the executor of the estate for information relative to Subject being in the New York City, Scranton, Pennsylvania, or Reading, Pennsylvania area in November, 1957 for the purposes of assisting in settling the estate or for information indicating Subject has any connection with the settling of the estate. Ascertain from the executor where the bulk of the estate is located and the residence of the individuals involved in order to determine if there is any logical reason for Subject registering at the Hotel New Yorker and apparently spending all except one night at this hotel in New York City, when his declared purpose of traveling to New York City was to assist in the settling of the affairs of the estate.
- 3) Will, if deemed advisable by your office at the present time, interview VINCENT J. NASO, 1304 East Wyomissing Blvd., Wyomissing Park. It is noted that he is a brother of Subject's wife and the brother of STEPHEN NASO's wife. If he is interviewed, ascertain from him RUSSELL BUFALINO's relationship with the STEPHEN NASO family in view of the fact that EMILY NASO is the sister of Subject's wife and RUSSELL BUFALINO was sufficiently acquainted with the STEPHEN NASO family to attend the funeral of STEPHEN NASO. Determine from him the identity of members of his family and their present address, by that it is requested the address of his father and mother and his brothers and sisters be obtained. Also determine from him when Subject was last in Reading, Pennsylvania and the reason Subject was in the area. If Subject was in the Reading area about 11/13/57 determine if Subject was there in any manner in connection with the settling of the estate of STEPHEN NASO.

AT KINGSTON, PENNSYLVANIA

Will, if deemed advisable at this time by your office, interview RUSSELL ALFRED BUFALINO, was, Top Hoodlum Philadelphia Office, Philadelphia file 92-441, at 304 East Dorrance Street, relative to Subject's comments about BUFALINO and his relationship with BUFALINO as set forth in details of this report under Interview of Subject. If BUFALINO interviewed, also refer to San Francisco letter to New York dated 5/15/58, copies of which were furnished your office, setting forth certain testimony of BUFALINO before INS hearing in which LANZA is mentioned. Interview BUFALINO regarding Subject's presence in Scranton, Pennsylvania on 11/13/57 and all facts surrounding Subject's presence there.

[redacted] Clerk, United States District Court, New Haven, Connecticut, advised that Docket Number 474 reveals that SALVATORE INTERNICOLA, aka. SALVATORE MONFRE, was arraigned on September 25, 1917, and plead guilty after the Grand Jury returned a True Bill of Indictment against the Subject for violation of Section 164, Penal Code. [redacted] Records Section, United States Treasury Department, Alcohol and Tobacco Unit, 290 Broadway, New York City, New York, advised in July, 1958, that the ATU files back in 1935 and 1937 were poorly kept, and there are no entire records available. [redacted] made available records he had which reflected that the Subject was arrested as SALVATORE INTERNICOLA on May 2, 1935, for possessing an illegal still. He was sentenced to 13 months in jail and fined $100. There was no further information regarding his incarceration.

SALVATORE INTERNICOLA

In July, 1958, the files of SALVATORE INTERNICOLA, aka. TONY FERRARO, Number 2195, Federal Correctional Institution, Manan, Michigan, were reviewed, and it was determined that Subject as SALVATORE INTERNICOLA was sentenced September 25, 1935, USDC, IDNY, Brooklyn, New York, to 13 months and fined $100, which was paid for violation of Internal Revenue laws (still), sentence beginning May 31, 1935.

INTERNICOLA was conditionally released from the Federal Correctional Institution on April 12, 1936. The file reflects that Subject was originally arrested for instant violation at Hicksville, New York, by Nassau County Police Department. He was transferred to the Federal Correctional Institution at Manan from the United States Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pennsylvania.

[redacted] United States Treasury Department, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit, in July, 1958, advised that his records reflect the arrest of SALVATORE INTERNICOLA as SALVATORE INTERNICOLA on February 6, 1937, for manufacturing alcohol. Subject was released on $2,500 bail. Later, Subject jumped bail, and his bond was forfeited. The ATU File reflects that INTERNICOLA was carried as an ATU fugitive until July 24, 1946, at which time the case against him was dismissed upon a recommendation of the District Attorney.

SALVATORE INTERNICOLA, better known as VITO BRUNO, was interviewed by Special Agents of the San Francisco Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on December 10, 1958, at which time VITO BRUNO admitted that his true name was SALVATORE INTERNICOLA, born December 28, 1895, in Veto Province of Trapani, Italy. He added that he arrived in the United States at New York City in 1912 and went directly to live with his brother, JOE INTERNICOLA, at Long Island, New York.

VITO BRUNO during the interview confirmed all of his arrests as set forth on the identification record.

During the interview, BRUNO related that after his arrest in 1937 in Brooklyn, New York, for operating a still, he was released on bond. He claimed that because he had no money for an attorney, he left Brooklyn, New York, and came to San Francisco and changed his name to VITO BRUNO.

SALVATORE INTERNICOLA

VITO BRUNO related that in 1937 he was first employed in San Francisco by FRANCISCO LANZA, whom he knew as the father of JAMES JOSEPH LANZA. He was employed for about a period of two months when FRANCISCO LANZA died.

BRUNO advised that he was employed for the next two years by the Crabmen's Protective Association, Fisherman's Warf, San Francisco. He left San Francisco for a few months in late 1940 and early 1941 and worked in Monterey, California, in the fishing industry. He returned to San Francisco in 1941 and has remained here ever since. BRUNO has had various types of employment, but since 1951, has principally been employed as a laborer or clean-up man for several of the large lithograph firms in the San Francisco area. He advised that he had no information relating to any travels to the East coast by the Subject in 1957. He stated that he had no information which did in any manner tend to connect Subject with the meeting of hoodlums at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957.

He remarked that he had never had any information or indication in any manner that Subject or any member of the LANZA family is or has ever been engaged in any illegal activity. He stated that it is difficult for him to believe that Subject could in any manner be engaged in any illegal activity. He stated that he practically grew up in the LANZA family, and during all of the years he had never observed any activity or heard any remarks which would indicate to him that Subject's father, FRANK LANZA, was engaged in any illegal activity.

He pointed out that his wife was not an Italian. He further stated that she at times has jokingly remarked about Italian hoodlums. He related that nothing in his association with the LANZA family or any of the family gatherings has ever occurred which would cause him to suspect any member of the family of being engaged in illegal activity.

He was questioned as to whether he had ever heard any rumors that Subject might be called an arbitrator of disputes among Sicilian people in the Bay area. He replied that he had never heard of any such arbitrator among the Sicilian people. He further stated that it would be difficult for him to believe, assuming there was such an arbitrator for disputes among the Sicilian people, that the Subject would be the arbitrator. He said that confidentially he did not consider the Subject an individual sufficiently competent to settle other peoples' disputes.

PERSONAL HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

Subject continues to reside with his family at 213 Anita Road, Apartment 7, Burlingame, California.

[redacted], who prior to 1950 was for many years a powerful gambling figure in San Mateo County, California, was interviewed on December 8, 1958, by Special Agents CHARLES J. PRELSNIK and MAX H. FISCHER. [redacted] has resided in the San Francisco - Bay Area for many years, having operated in this area in the prohibition era in the bootlegging racket. He was in the legitimate liquor business in the San Francisco - Bay Area immediately following the repeal of prohibition for six or seven years. From 1950 to about 1954 he held interests in legal gambling clubs in Las Vegas, Nevada.

b7C

Among other things, he was questioned as to his knowledge of JAMES JOSEPH LANZA. [redacted] advised that he had only met LANZA one time, which occasion he believed to have been about three years prior to the time of the interview. He related that during the time he was in the liquor business, subsequent to the repeal of prohibition, he occasionally heard of the Lanza Brothers Wine Company; however, he stated he had never met either of the brothers or had any business with them. He explained the one occasion on which he met LANZA by saying that his attorney JOSEPH ALIOTO called him and advised him that a client of his (ALIOTO) was interested in buying a six acre piece of ground on El Camino Real in Millbrae, California, which

b6
b7C

[redacted] ALIOTO related that this client was desirous of building a motel on the site. [redacted] related that he told ALIOTO that the property was not for sale; however, ALIOTO insisted and he subsequently agreed to meet with the client for lunch the following day at Fisherman's Wharf, San Francisco, California.

SF 92-123

At the time of the luncheon meeting the potential client was introduced to him by AL IOTO. He recalled that last name was LANZA, but at this time he was not positive of the first name; however, the individual was one of the LANZA brothers who were in the wine business in San Francisco. [redacted] description of the individual he met at the luncheon is that of Subject rather than that of his brother ANTHONY LANZA.

During the luncheon [redacted] stated he pointed out that he intended to hold the land desired by LANZA for a long-term investment, and did not wish to sell the land at any price. At that time [redacted] related that he has not seen or talked to LANZA since that time. [redacted] was unable to furnish any other information pertaining to Subject.

ASSOCIATES

On December 22, 1958, Special Agents JESSE R. WAGNER and RICHARD J. McMULLEN interviewed PIETRO TERRANOVA, 3983 Seven Hills Road (old number 7525), Castro Valley, California. TERRANOVA advised that he is a Sicilian by birth but has resided in the United States since 1928. He said that from about 1928 until about 1943 he lived in New York City, where he was a salesman for various food produce companies. He related his last employment was as a salesman for the Granzoni Macaroni Company, which was operated by a man named CORTINA, whose first name he did not recall. He related that when he moved to the San Francisco area in about 1943 he was told by CORTINA to "say hello" to JAMES LANZA in San Francisco. He related that he stopped in to see LANZA after arriving in the Bay Area, but LANZA treated him coldly.

CPI:RPF

He claimed that he did not see LANZA again until about seven years ago when he started to work for the Grande Cheese Company, of one Main Street, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. He explained that this company is owned by JOHN DiBELLA, who was a family friend of LANZA. At the suggestion of DiBELLA, he again visited LANZA, and since that contact has kept in touch with him off and on since that time. He said that he last saw LANZA about one week before the interview when he dropped off a piece of cheese for a Christmas present. He claimed that he had not seen LANZA previous to that time for about nine or ten months.

TERRANOVA stated that he considered LANZA, whom he referred to as "Mr. Jimmy" to be a respectable businessman who has never given him any indication of being engaged in any illegal activities. He said that LANZA is considered to be a wealthy man and his brother TONY LANZA is extremely interested in the stock market. He recalled that about two years ago JAMES LANZA mentioned to him that he had been in New York for two or three days in connection with the death of his brother-in-law. LANZA did not tell TERRANOVA how he traveled or who, if anyone, went with him, and made no mention of having been anywhere other than New York City.

TERRANOVA related that during World War <sup>1</sup> LANZA managed an olive oil plant in Lindsay, California, which was reportedly [redacted] or similar name of Schroeder Brothers, New York, a food processing firm. He said that he believed it was possible that LANZA actually owned the company, but was not sure. He claimed that he does not know any of LANZA's friends or contacts, and he stated that his present contact with LANZA is an occasional visit when they have lunch together.

He claimed to never have heard of the meeting of hoodlums in Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957.

b6
b7C

SF 92-123
CPI:RPF

TERRANOVA related that he had met FRANK SCAPPATURA twice many years ago when SCAPPATURA operated an olive oil company in Orland, California. He said that it is his impression that LANZA may have sold olive oil pulp to SCAPPATURA during World War II, but he has no definite information along this line. He said that he has not seen SCAPPATURA in many years.

He also related that in about 1945 or 1946 when olive oil was in short supply, he had a conversation with TONY LIMA, when LIMA suggested some sort of business arrangement for TERRANOVA to attempt to secure olive oil for him. TERRANOVA said that at the same time he had a conversation with FRANK LIMA, the father of TONY LIMA, at which time FRANK LIMA told him to have nothing to do with TONY because TONY was "no good." He said that he had no dealings thereafter with TONY LIMA, and understood the warning of the father to mean that TONY LIMA was dishonest in his business dealings.

TERRANOVA advised that in about 1952 or 1953 he met SEBASTIANO NANI at the California Cheese Company, in San Jose, California, on one or two occasions. He said that NANI had the reputation of being "crooked" in his business dealings and he, therefore, had no close association with NANI.

TERRANOVA advised that he has severed his connections with the Grande Cheese Company because of inability to sell its products and now works for the S and R Cheese Company of Plymouth, Wisconsin, selling its products in the northern California area.

He said that he has often heard of the Mafia or Mafioso, but has never had anything come to his attention which would indicate to him that there is definitely such an organization in this country. He said that so far as he is concerned there are "good" men and "bad" men and it is common for the

CPI:RPF

"bad" men to be referred to as members of the Mafia. He could not furnish the names of any persons whom he had ever heard referred to as members of the Mafia.

It is noted that JOHN DiBELLA, mentioned above, with the Grande Cheese Company of Wisconsin, is an old family friend of the LANZA family, and has been interviewed regarding his association with Subject.

Re VITO BRUNO. The FBI Identification Division, through a comparison of the fingerprints of VITO BRUNO taken in 1940 by the San Francisco Police Department with fingerprints on file in the Identification Division, determined that the fingerprints of VITO BRUNO were identical with the fingerprints of SALVATORE INTERNICOLA, aka, FBI No. 451367. The identification record disclosed arrests and convictions for counterfeiting and violation of the alcoholic tax laws.

VITO BRUNO, when interviewed on December 10, 1958, by SAs HERBERT K. MUDD, JR. and CURTIS P. IRWIN, JR., admitted all of his arrests set forth on the FBI identification record.

It is noted that [redacted] U. S. Treasury Department, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit, (ATU), New York City, New York, advised in July 1958 that records available to him reflected the arrest of SALVATORE INTERNICOLA as SALVATORE INTENICOLA on February 6, 1937, for manufacturing alcohol. INTERNICOLA was released on $2,500.00 bail. Later INTERNICOLA jumped bail and his bond was forfeited. The ATU file reflects that INTERNICOLA was carried as an ATU fugitive until July 24, 1946, at which time the case against him was dismissed upon a recommendation of the District Attorney.

b6
b7C

As has been previously established, VITO BRUNO is an associate of Subject. As noted above BRUNO was interviewed on December 10, 1958 by Bureau Agents. Among other things at the time of the interview BRUNO was questioned concerning his association with Subject. BRUNO stated that his true name is SALVATORE INTERNICOLA. He advised that he arrived in the United States from Italy at New York City in 1912. He related that while in New York City he met FRANCISCO LANZA, who owned and operated a wholesale grocery business. He related that both he and [redacted] worked for FRANCISCO LANZA but he could not recall the length of time or the approximate dates they were employed. He commented that he was aware of the fact that FRANCISCO LANZA left New York City and moved to California, however, he could not recall when LANZA moved from New York to California.

CPI/ig
SF 92-123

b6

BRUNO stated that when he was arrested in 1937 for operating a still in Brooklyn, New York and released on bail he did not have any money. He stated that since he did not have any money to pay for an attorney he left Brooklyn, New York and came to San Francisco, California. BRUNO advised that he was arrested under the name of SALVATORE INTERNICOLA but changed his name to VITO BRUNO after he came to San Francisco, California. He stated that he did not know anyone in San Francisco when he arrived in San Francisco. However, he recalled that FRANCISCO LANZA had come to California from New York City and he thought possibly FRANCISCO LANZA might be in San Francisco. As a result he checked the telephone directory for the name of FRANCISCO LANZA, called some numbers and thereby located FRANCISCO LANZA. At the time FRANCISCO LANZA was along with other individuals, building the Exposition Fish Grotto, a seafood restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf. BRUNO related that he went to work for LANZA as a clean-up man at the Exposition Fish Grotto. He worked for FRANCISCO LANZA for approximately two months at which time FRANCISCO LANZA died.

BRUNO related that FRANCISCO LANZA knew him in New York as SALVATORE INTERNICOLA. In San Francisco he was using the name of VITO BRUNO, however, BRUNO stated that FRANCISCO LANZA did not know that he was a fugitive from justice at the time. BRUNO claimed to offer no explanation to FRANCISCO LANZA for the use of different names. BRUNO claimed that no one in San Francisco knew he was a fugitive. He claimed that the only one who actually knew that he was a fugitive and knew of the change of names was [redacted] in Brooklyn, New York, whom he advised of the change of names by letter. BRUNO related that while working for FRANCISCO LANZA, FRANCISCO LANZA introduced him to his sons, JAMES and ANTHONY LANZA, who were operating the Lanza Bros., 559 Washington Street, San Francisco. Also at that time FRANCISCO LANZA was using the Washington Street address as a business address. BRUNO stated that he asked FRANCISCO LANZA if he could use the 559 Washington Street address as his mailing address in view of the fact he would be living in various rooming houses around town. FRANCISCO LANZA told him that he could use that address for his mailing address.

SF 92-123

b6

After FRANCISCO LANZA's death he related that he continued to work for a short time at the Exposition Fish Grotto. He stated that since FRANCISCO LANZA gave him permission to use 559 Washington Street as a mailing address he has continued until this date using that address as his mailing address. He related that JAMES and ANTHONY LANZA, after the death of their father, continued to permit him to use that address for mailing purposes. He stated that he had always found it convenient since he lived in various rooming houses around the area.

BRUNO related that he considers the Lanza Brothers to be his friends. However, he claims that they have never discussed their business with him and he has no information about their business. As far as he knows they are engaged in the olive oil business as brokers and in the insurance business. He also admitted that they are active in the stock market. BRUNO related that he had absolutely no information indicating to him that Subject had ever been engaged in any illegal activity.

ARTHUR A. CELLINI, 105 West Monterey, Stockton, California, was re-interviewed on November 25, 1958 (since deceased) by SAs FRANK R. WARNER and CURTIS P. IRWIN, JR. Among other things, CELLINI was specifically interviewed in regard to the discussions at SAM SAN FELIPO's ranch at Waterford, California in 1951, which has been previously set forth. It is noted that this discussion was in regard to SAM SAN FELIPO and ANDREA GUSMANO attempting to telephonically contact someone in the Bay Area regarding difficulty among GUSMANO, SAN FELIPO and CELLINI. CELLINI furnished in substance the same information which he had previously furnished. However, he was questioned for more details. He advised that SAN FELIPO and GUSMANO attempted to make the first call as he recalled, between 2 and 3 PM. He recalled that they were calling two separate numbers. Both of the telephone calls were placed by numbers only and no names were being used. They were unable to make contact initially at either number. He stated he had no way of knowing or learning the identity of either party they were trying to contact. However, he recalls that in the afternoon at the house one of the parties mentioned as being one they were trying to contact, was a cousin of TONY LIMA. This individual was supposed to be in the furniture business and he believed in Oakland, California. It is noted that CELLINI, when previously interviewed, remarked that the LANZA whom they contacted was believed to be in the furniture business in the Bay Area. However, on this occasion he was positive that the individual who was a cousin of TONY LIMA was the one who was supposed to be in the furniture business and he believed him to be in business in Oakland, California.

CELLINI related that as he recalled they contacted an individual and talked with someone about 5 PM. He related that they apparently knew that one of the individuals at one of the telephone numbers would be in about 5 PM. He stated that this might have been known as a result of someone answering one of the numbers called during the afternoon. He stated that he definitely knew that about 5PM they did talk to one of the individuals whom they were trying to contact.

CPI/1g

He related that on the way from SAN FELIPO's ranch he and GUSMANO were talking. GUSMANO told him that they (meaning GUSMANO and SAN FELIPO) were trying to get hold of a Mr. LANZA. CELLINI stated that at that time he asked GUSMANO if they were trying to get in touch with [REDACTED] CELLINI told GUSMANO that he knew [REDACTED] and could talk to him if there was anything that [REDACTED] could do to settle the matter. At that time GUSMANO said that the individual was not [REDACTED] however, GUSMANO did not volunteer any information as to who the [REDACTED] was that they did talk with on the phone. However, CELLINI stated that he had the definite impression that the [REDACTED] with whom they talked was in San Francisco. As he recalls SAN FELIPO did all of the talking when [REDACTED] was contacted on the phone. On this interview he remarked that he did not hear any of the conversation.

b7c

Again CELLINI remarked that from the activities of GUSMANO and SAN FELIPO and from the events that occurred on that day and remarks that he heard made he got the definite impression that LANZA was a person that settled disputes among Sicilians. He had no other information which would assist in identifying the individual known to him as LANZA who was contacted by [REDACTED] and SAN FELIPO on this occasion.

[REDACTED] of the San Francisco Office disclose [REDACTED] in 1952 in a case captioned "ANTHONY MAGNARO, Application for Pardon After Completion of Sentence."

CPI/ig
SF 92-123

This investigation disclosed that an investigation of ANTHONY MAGGIO was conducted in 1952 upon his Application for Pardon After Completion of Sentence. The U. S. Attorney's file in this matter disclosed that ANTHONY MAGGIO was convicted in the U. S. District Court, Newark, New Jersey, for violation of alcoholic tax laws. He was sentenced July 8, 1941 to imprisonment for three years and to pay a fine of $2,300.00. He began service of sentence August, 1942, was released on parole November 1, 1943, and was finally discharged on completion of parole term on March 13, 1946. The fine at that time (1952) had not been paid. The file further disclosed that ANTHONY MAGGIO under FBI No. 495757, had an arrest record dating from June 10, 1930.

ANTHONY MAGGIO is a brother of MIKE MAGGIO, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, who is a Top Hoodlum - National in the Philadelphia Office.

Included among the references who submitted character affidavits in connection with the application for pardon were JOSEPH P. MARCONI, 211 Moulton Street, San Francisco, California, DANIEL F. MARINI, 3840 18th Street, San Francisco, and JAMES J. LANZA, 603 Virginia Avenue, San Mateo, Calif.

JOSEPH P. MARCONI, who was listed as a character reference for MAGGIO, was interviewed in May, 1952, by SA [redacted] At that time MARCONI at first was unable to recall MAGGIO. However, later he recalled MAGGIO and recalled submitting the character affidavit. MARCONI related that he had only a slight acquaintance with MAGGIO. However, he stated that he submitted the character affidavit for MAGGIO at the request of JAMES J. LANZA whom he said was well acquainted with MAGGIO and who informed MARCONI that MAGGIO was a good citizen.

b6
b7C

CPI/ig
SF 92-123

MARCONI recalled having had lunch with MAGGIO and LANZA on two or three occasions and he stated he was well impressed with MAGGIO.

JAMES J. LANZA, when interviewed in July, 1952, by SA CHARLES G. CAMPBELL concerning MAGGIO advised that he has known Maggio and his family socially. He stated that he considered MAGGIO to be a good man who enjoyed the respect of his friends and who since LANZA's acquaintance with him had not engaged in any illegal activity nor been arrested. LANZA remarked that he knew no reason why favorable consideration should not be given to MAGGIO in the matter of his Application for Pardon After Completion of Sentence.

It is noted that DANIEL MARINI and JOSEPH MARCONI, mentioned above as references for ANTHONY MAGGIO, are reported poker playing associates and close friends of Subject.

Surveillances by agents of the San Francisco Office were conducted of the residence of the Subject at 213 Anita Road, Burlingame, Calif. from 9 PM to midnight from December 8, 1958, to December 19, 1958, with the following results:

CRIMINAL RECORD

No information has been developed relative to this section since the last report.

ASSOCIATES

The following investigation was conducted by SA WILLIAM B. NOLAN, Jr.

AT SANTA MARIA, CALIFORNIA

Mr. ROBERT GARIOTO, 740 East Cypress Street, advised on December 5, 1958, that he had known JAMES LANZA and the LANZA family for many years. He stated that Subject's father, FRANK LANZA, now deceased, came to California, from New York City about forty years ago, and operated a large vineyard in the vicinity of Escondido, California.

He informed that he became acquainted with FRANK LANZA in connection with his (GARIOTO's) business of buying fruit and vegetables since he (GARIOTO) frequently came to California from his home in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, on buying trips, and sometimes bought grapes from LANZA.

He described FRANK LANZA as an aggressive business man who did quite well financially in his business ventures. Further that he always considered FRANK LANZA a legitimate business man and that he knew nothing relative to illegal activities on the part of FRANK LANZA or his sons, JAMES and ANTHONY.

SF (92-123)

HKM:lvh

Mr. GARIOITO advised that his [redacted] reside in San Francisco, California, where [redacted] operates the Coliseum Shoe Store, 642 Clement Street, and that he (GARIOITO) and his wife go to San Francisco to visit [redacted] several times each year.

b6
b7C

He advised that when in San Francisco he generally stops by the office of JAMES LANZA at 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, for a friendly visit, and sometimes purchases a small quantity of olive oil from LANZA for his own use, since LANZA sells a very good grade of olive oil.

Further that he last contacted JAMES LANZA over the Thanksgiving weekend just past, when he and his wife were in San Francisco to spend the holiday with their daughter and son-in-law. He informed that he (GARIOITO) has been retired for the past seven years and that he has no business connection with LANZA.

GARIOITO stated that he moved his family to Lodi, California, from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in 1932 and in 1936 moved from Lodi to Santa Maria, California, where he has lived continually since that time, except when he was away on produce buying trips.

Mr. GARIOITO stated that he has one son, ANTHONY GARIOITO, who resides at 128 Manhattan Drive, Vallejo, California, and is employed as Assistant Manager of the J.C. Penney Store in Vallejo.

Mr. GARIOITO advised he did not know any of the close associates of JAMES LANZA either in San Francisco or elsewhere, since he had never been closely associated with LANZA. He stated that LANZA had never visited in his (GARIOITO's) home either in Santa Maria or elsewhere. He stated that he considered JAMES LANZA a man of excellent character and reputation and that he did not believe LANZA was the type of person who might engage in illegal activities.

SF (92-123)

HKM:lvh

He stated that actually he knew very little concerning the business of the LANZA Brothers, but that it was his understanding that they had an insurance business in addition to selling olive oil. Further he believed that the LANZA family was highly respected in the San Francisco area, and that he had never heard anything of a derogatory nature concerning any of the members of the LANZA family.

AT INGLEWOOD, CALIFORNIA

The following investigation was conducted by SAs

On January 6, 1959 Mr. FRANK GRUTTADAURIA, owner of the Banks of Scotland Liquor Store, 5014 Century Boulevard, advised that about three or four years ago, a relative by marriage, Mr. CHARLIE CARSSARO, 55 East Boulevard, Cleveland, Ohio, telephoned him and requested his assistance in locating a firm from which he could purchase olive oil.

GRUTTADAURIA stated he had heard LANZA's Company had a good product, and he recommended the company to CARSSARO. He related he telephoned LANZA at that time, and perhaps on one occasion since then, but said he does not know him well, and has no knowledge of his activities, contacts or associates.

b6
b7C

He added he does not know if CARSSARO still buys from LANZA. Mr. GRUTTADAURIA continued he is acquainted with NICK LICATA, but said he does not know if LICATA knows LANZA. He stated that LICATA never mentioned anything to him about LANZA, and that he knows nothing about LICATA contacting LANZA in San Francisco on March 18, 1958.

The following investigation was conducted by
SA

AT CUPERTINO, CALIFORNIA

FRANK JOSEPH GENOVESE, 10630 Lawrence Road, advised on January 12, 1959 that he operates a cherry orchard

HKM:lvh

b6
b7C

consisting of 14 acres at this address. He stated that last years crop was sold by him on the trees to a [redacted] [redacted] San Jose, California, a cherry shipper.

GENOVESE stated that he is a fruit buyer for large shippers in the Santa Clara Valley doing business principally with the Valley View Fruit Company of San Jose who are large shippers and packers of dried fruits. He stated that he did not do business with any San Francisco shippers and JAMES JOSEPH LANZA or ANTHONY LANZA were not known to him.

GENOVESE stated that he is a San Franciscan by birth of Italian parents who came from Rome, Italy. He stated that he was born in San Francisco in 1903, and when he was approximately a year and one-half old his parents took him to Tunisia where they resided until 1924 at which time they returned to the Santa Clara Valley area.

He stated that he has worked on farms or in the capacity as a fruit buyer most of his adult life. During the off season, about ten years ago, he stated that he had engaged in the olive oil business. He said that he purchased oil in the Fresno area and sold it on a door to door basis in the Santa Clara Valley. He stated that he never purchased any oil from or sold any to the LANZAs as they were not known to him.

He advised that he acquired a gun permit from the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office because of an incident that he had with a hitchhiker he had befriended on one of his trips to Fresno to purchase oil. Because he sometimes carried large amounts in cash for these purchases and in the sale of oil he thought it wise to have a gun for his protection.

He denied that he was any relation to VITO GENOVESE, and only knew of him because of things he had read and from people who have asked him if he was any relation to the "gangster from the East".

SF (92-123)

HKM:lvh

He admitted that he had a cousin in Arizona who went there from New York. He stated that he did not know if his name was JOSEPH GENOVESE for sure, but thought it could be. He said that he had never met him and did not know if he had a son by the name of GREGORY.

GENOVESE steadfastly maintained that he was not an acquaintance of the Subject, and did not know of his having come to his orchard for cherries. He stated that since the crop had been sold to [redacted] it was not his to give away, and that possibly LANZA was permitted to obtain cherries through [redacted]

b6
b7C

AT SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA

On January 19, 1959, [redacted] Street, advised SAs [redacted] and C. DARWIN MARRON that he does not know JAMES J. LANZA. [redacted] is an elderly retired orchardist who together with his sons operates the [redacted] San Jose.

He stated that he purchased the cherry crop from "JOE" GENOVESE at Cupertino this year.

[redacted] stated that he knew FRANK LANZA, father of JAMES LANZA during the early 1920's when the latter was engaged as a grape broker and he had some contact with him. [redacted] stated that he had never met the Subject and had no dealings with him last year.

Spot surveillances conducted since the last report concerning the Subject revealed that DANIEL F. MARINI, Aka. and JAMES JOSEPH LANZA were observed by SAs MAX H. FISCHER, [redacted] and HERBERT K. MUDD, Jr., to meet at the Subject's residence, 19 Wildwood Drive, San Mateo, and then proceed in the 1958 pink Oldsmobile, license MGH 644, property of DOMINIC FRANK MARINI, to the downtown area of San Mateo where they park the automobile and then get out and walk around the downtown area using the same route as that which has previously been reported.

b6
b7C

SF (92-123)
HKM:lvh

After about an hour or so they return to the car and return to the Subject's residence. Subject removes himself from the automobile and then MARINI proceeds to his residence. The purpose or significance of these meetings is not known at this time.

The following investigation was conducted by SA MAX H. FISCHER:

MARINI is the closest associate of JAMES JOSEPH LANZA who is known to have been in the vicinity of the hoodlum meeting, November 14, 1957, at Apalachin, New York. Although it cannot be definitely established that LANZA attended the meeting, he was in the immediate vicinity registered at a motel with three individuals who are known to have attended the meeting.

LANZA has been observed to be in contact with MARINI on an average of about four to five times per week, generally late at night, and all meetings were held in a clandestine fashion in such a way that the matter under discussion could not be overheard.

Background Information

Name:

San Mateo
Branch, Bank of America, has advised that MARINI has always shown his name as DANIEL F. MARINI in connection with his linen business and all banking activities. Real property owned in San Mateo County also shows his name as DANIEL F. MARINI.

b6
b7C

According to the Driver's License Division of the California Department of Motor Vehicles and the San Mateo County Registrar of Voters, his name is recorded as DOMENIC FRANK MARINI.

SF (92-123)
HKM:lvh

Records of the San Mateo-Burlingame Credit Bureau contain one reference under the name MIENNEL E. MARINI was shown as DANIEL F. MARINI (It is believed possible that this is an error and actually pertains to [redacted] of DANIEL F. MARINI).

b6
b7C

Records of Dun and Bradstreet in two places indicate that MARINI is a brother of VICTOR BRUNI, and there is no explanation as to why the surnames of the two individuals are different.

Birth Data

Driver's License Division, California Department of Motor Vehicles, shows MARINI's date of birth as February 12, 1898.

His insurance policy in the Security Benefit Life Insurance Company carries the same birthdate and indicates his place of birth as New York, New York.

DATE: 3/17/59

FROM : SAC, San Francisco (55-1552A)

SUBJECT: JAMES JOSEPH LANZA
ANTI-RACKETEERINGJUNE

Rebulet dated 3/21/58 and San Francisco letters dated 3/17/58 and 4/1/58.

Investigation has established that JAMES JOSEPH LANZA was registered at the Hotel Casey, Scranton, Pennsylvania on 11/13/57, along with JOSEPH CERRITO, Top Hoodlum National - San Francisco, JOSEPH CIVELLO, Top Hoodlum National - Dallas, SIMEONE SCOZZARI and FRANK DESIMONE, both Top Hoodlums National - Los Angeles. It has further been established that CIVELLO, SCOZZARI, DESIMONE and RUSSEL BUFALINO, Top Hoodlum of the Philadelphia Office attended the meeting at Apalachin, New York on 11/14/57. LANZA, when interviewed by Special Agents of this office, admitted that he was in Scranton, Pennsylvania but would not admit or deny that he attended the meeting on 11/14/57.

Subject, who operates a partnership with his brother, ANTHONY N. LANZA, at 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, under the name of Lanza Bros., is in the olive oil business. During the current investigation of the subject at his place of business he has been observed to associate with VITO BRUNO, aka SALVATORE INTERNICOLA, FBI No. 451367, who has a record dating back to 1937 which includes arrests and convictions for counterfeiting and violation of the alcoholic tax laws. He is an alien and since 1937 when he came to San Francisco he has used the address of 559 Washington Street as his mailing address. He is in contact with the LANZAs several times a week.

JOSEPH CARL CHIRI, Mountain View, California, brother of SALVATORE CHARLES CHIRI, aka, who attended the meeting of hoodlums at Apalachin, New York on 11/14/57 has been observed at the office of the subject by agents of this office.

ANTHONY PERCONTI, 5521 California Street, San Francisco who, in 1929 was involved in a kidnaping case in Chicago, Illinois, had two brothers and a sister-in-law murdered in gang-type murders and who lived in Pueblo, Colorado, under an assumed name for several years before coming to California is a frequent visitor at LANZA's place of business. Associates who have been observed to visit at Lanza Bros., 559 Washington Street include STEPHEN J. b6

b7C

HENRY IRVING, when interviewed by agents of the San Francisco Office, advised that he had been acquainted with JAMES LANZA for several years. He advised that he considered JAMES LANZA as the "King Pin" of the Sicilian element in the San Francisco Area and that he was influential among the Sicilians.

On 3/17/59 the San Francisco Office forwarded Form 142 requesting authority to install a microphone at subject's business establishment, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, as an aid in covering contacts between JAMES JOSEPH LANZA and hoodlum associates in the San Francisco Area.

San Francisco letter dated 4/1/58 advised that a survey reflected that such an installation was not then feasible primarily because of structural problems. Current alterations have materially improved the adaptability of the structure to a technical installation with maximum security assured.

It appears that trespass will be involved. Findings based on the initial survey are still pertinent and these, plus the obvious changes resulting from the recent alterations make any additional surveys unnecessary.

In view of the above, Bureau authority is requested for the installation of a misur at the premises of JAMES JOSEPH LANZA, 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California.

SAC, San Francisco requests Bureau authority to install a microphone surveillance at 559 Washington Street, San Francisco, California, which is the business office of Top Hoodlum James Joseph Lanza. A survey of the premises has already been conducted and it has been ascertained that although the installation will involve a trespass, it can be completed with maximum security and no risk of detection.

Lanza has been identified as being within the area surrounding Apalachin, New York, during the time of the meeting of hoodlums which occurred at the residence of Joseph Barbara. He was registered at a nearby hotel with four other individuals, three of whom were positively identified at the meeting. Although he has been the subject of intensive investigation under the Top Hoodlum Program since February, 1958, there is no indication of current criminal activity on his part. It has been observed, however, that he frequently meets with associates in his place of business which is the Lanza Brothers Olive Oil Company located at the address given above. Information has been received from persons who know Lanza that he appears to have remarkable authority among individuals comprising the Sicilian - Italian element in San Francisco, and it is considered highly probable that he discusses the affairs of this Italian element in his office when meeting with his associates.

The San Francisco Office has selected Lanza as the individual for intensive and comprehensive investigation in an effort to penetrate this element's organization and activities. Although numerous interviews have been conducted for the purpose, no live informant coverage of the activities inside Lanza's office has been developed.

The SAC states that the misur will be valuable in spotting prospective live informants and will supplement other aspects of the investigation of Lanza's activities.

It is the plan of the office to monitor this installation at the central plant and there will be an actual cost of $18 each month for the rental of a leased line for this purpose. No additional manpower will be needed to monitor the installation and the pro-rated Subject LANZA probably attended the meeting of Top Hoodlums at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957.

8. Specific information being sought:

That information which transpires between LANZA and other hoodlums, including information relating to their plans, policy, organization, finances and travel. Also information relating to the purpose of the meeting at Apalachin, New York, on November 14, 1957.

9. Reasons for believing the specific information will be obtained by the ~~technical~~-surveillance:

In view of his probable attendance at the Apalachin meeting as well as his known contacts with Top Hoodlums of other offices.

10. Importance of case and subject:

The San Francisco Office has selected LANZA as the individual for intensive and comprehensive investigation in an effort to penetrate this element's organization and activities.

11. Possibilities of obtaining desired information by other means (Explain in detail):

There is no possibility of obtaining the desired information by other means unless a live informant is present. Live informant coverage cannot reasonably be expected to be sufficient to provide all the information a misur can provide. Misurs are further superior since they can furnish verbatim coverage.

15. Remarks:

While investigation of LANZA's activities in the San Francisco area is considerable, it will not be sufficient until such time as an informant close to LANZA is developed and who can provide all that transpires between him and other hoodlums with whom he is in contact. To date the San Francisco Office does not have a live informant who is in a position to furnish information as to LANZA's activities. A misur will be valuable in this regard and will in addition, insure and supplement other sources. Furthermore, information it will furnish may prove of value to other field offices. For these reasons, I recommend Bureau authorize installation of misur on JAMES JOSEPH LANZA.

DETAILS:

PERSONAL HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

JAMES JOSEPH LANZA and the members of his family continue to reside at 19 Wildwood Drive, San Mateo, California.

The following investigation was conducted at Boyertown, Pennsylvania, by SA [redacted]

b6
b7C

Mr. VINCENT J. NASO, 1304 East Wyomissing Boulevard, Reading, Pennsylvania, owner of the Osan Manufacturing Company, Inc., 320 South Washington Street, Boyertown, Pennsylvania, advised as follows on March 20, 1959:

He, VINCENT NASO, is a brother-in-law of JAMES LANZA, subject being married to his sister, JOSEPHINE, since about 1929. However, he and LANZA have met on only a few occasions, and all but one were several years ago when VINCENT NASO was in the Army stationed in California and spent several weekends at the home of his sister and her husband. In the last ten years he has seen subject only during one period of about four days in September, 1957.

Mr. NASO advised that he actually knows nothing about the activities of LANZA, but has, of course, heard rumors from time to time.

Mr. NASO related that his parents, CARMELO and JOSEPHINE NASO, although very old, are both still living in New York City.

In addition to his parents and [redacted]
[redacted] with him, VINCENT NASO has the following immediate relatives:

b6
b7C

EMILY NASO, nee NASO, widow of STEPHEN NASO. EMILY is the oldest child of CARMELO and JOSEPHINE NASO. Her deceased husband, STEPHEN NASO, was a distant relative of hers, but VINCENT NASO does not know the exact relationship. EMILY NASO is now residing with her daughter and son-in-law,

SF 92-123
HKM/hs

JOSEPH and MARYANN AUGELLO, at Tucson, Arizona (street address not recalled).

The next oldest child of his parents was ANNA who has been deceased for some time.

[redacted]
New York.

Grand Gorge,

[redacted] the next child, resides at Easton, Pennsylvania.

b6
b7C

JOSEPHINE LANZA, wife of the subject, is a few years older than VINCENT NASO, and he is the youngest.

VINCENT NASO related that he and his brother-in-law STEPHEN (EMILY's deceased husband) at one time had the Northampton Pants Factory, but sold it out and set up operations at the Osan Manufacturing Company, a corporation wholly owned by the two at their present location several years ago. This concern makes men's slacks on order for several concerns, and they put out nothing under their own brand. They turn out about 5,000 pairs of slacks weekly when busy.

VINCENT NASO stated that he and his brother-in-law had an agreement that if anything happened to one, the other would have the business, but when STEPHEN died there was no such provision in his will. Instead everything was left to his widow, either directly or in trust with her for the two children.

STEPHEN and EMILY NASO had two children, MARYANN, now the wife of JOSEPH AUGELLO (previously mentioned), and BENEDICT NASO. BENEDICT NASO, VINCENT advised, is a mental case. He had been confined at the Allentown State Hospital (locally known as Rittersville) until his mother moved to Tucson, when he was transferred to a private institution near there.

He stated that STEPHEN NASO died in Reading, Pennsylvania, in September, 1957. The body was taken to

SF 92-123
HKM/hs

New York City for burial, where he was from originally. VINCENT advised that his brother-in-law, JAMES LANZA, flew to New York for the funeral, but was alone, at least he was not accompanied by any of his family, including his wife. VINCENT NASO recalls meeting him at a New York airport, but does not recall which one. After the burial, LANZA went to Reading, Pennsylvania, with VINCENT NASO and his wife in VINCENT's car and stayed about two days at the NASO home. However, during that period he was in the immediate area only, and when he left, VINCENT drove him to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where he got a plane back to the West Coast.

The trip from New York to Reading was made direct with no stopovers in Scranton, Pennsylvania, or elsewhere.

VINCENT NASO stated that if LANZA returned to the East since that time, he is not aware of it.

Mr. NASO advised that the estate of STEPHEN NASO consisted mainly of the home in Reading, Pennsylvania, his interest in the Boyertown, Pennsylvania, plant and the balance in cash and stocks. EMILY NASO, the widow, was the executor and [redacted] Reading, Pennsylvania, attorney, was the administrator. LANZA had nothing whatsoever to do with the estate or its administration and at the time he was in Reading, the will was not even probated as yet. At first he related, his sister was undecided whether to retain her interest in the Osan Manufacturing Company or sell out and he did not press her for a decision. It was about two months later that she finally decided to sell her interest to VINCENT, and shortly after that she went to Tucson to join her daughter. The body of her husband has since been removed from New York and reinterred in a Tucson cemetery.

b6
b7C

VINCENT NASO claimed that he is not personally acquainted with RUSSELL BUFALINO, Pittston, Pennsylvania, and would not know this man if he saw him. If they are related in any way, no matter how distantly, he is unaware of it. All he knows of BUFALINO is what he has read in the papers, and if BUFALINO was present at STEPHEN NASO's funeral he was unaware of it.

Special Agent in Charge

Apalachin Meet May Be Exposed

The secrets of the notorious crime convention at Apalachin, N.Y., may be unfolding today before a special grand jury investigating organized crime.

James J. Lanza, wealthy San Francisco importer-businessman, testified at length before the panel today after being granted immunity by Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich.

Has Immunity

Lanza, who hid behind the Fifth Amendment during earlier questioning, was given immunity concerning questions dealing with who was at the Apalachin meeting, whether the narcotics traffic was discussed there and other phases of organized crime.

Lloyd F. Dunn, special assistant to the attorney general, said Lanza, 56, was "a co-operative witness."

Seen First Break

If Lanza is giving detailed answers to questions about the 1957 crime convention in upstate New York, it will be the first break in a long and concentrated investigation of the meeting by state and federal law enforcement agencies across the country.

Dunn would not discuss Lanza's testimony today, but said the witness, first to be given immunity in the current probe, will return for further testimony June 9.

Witness Given Immunity to Testify About Mafia

James J. Lanza, 56, wealthy San Francisco olive oil importer, was granted immunity today to tell what he knows about the Mafia, the Appalachia conference and narcotics traffic. If Lanza should continue to refuse to testify when he goes back before the grand jury tomorrow, he will be subject to contempt proceedings.

Lanza refused to appear earlier before a special federal grand jury investigating organized crime. He pleaded the Fifth Amendment.

The immunity granted by Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich is the first given to any of the reluctant witnesses in the probe.
